U. S. Army To Be Expanded To 3,600,000 Men During 1942

Exact Strength Of Army At Present Time Is Military Secret

By JACK VINCENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson today announced plans to expand the U. S. Army to 3,600,000 men during 1942 and, at the same time, declared that an A. E. F. will be sent outside the continental United States to fight on all war fronts in the world.

Stimson's declaration that the armed forces would see service outside this country recalled President Roosevelt's message to Congress 10 days ago in which the nation's chief executive said that American soldiers would be sent to the British Isles and anywhere else in the world where they can strike directly at the enemy.

Delegates From 21 American Nations In War Conference

By PERCY FORSTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 15.—An encouraging note of Argentine cooperation was sounded today as delegates of 21 nations of North and South America assembled for their third and most vital conference since the outbreak of war in 1939.

It came from Dr. Enrique Ruiz-Guinazu, foreign minister of Argentina, whose aloofness had aroused fears that the hemispheric solidarity so greatly desired by the majority of nations concerned might fail of achievement, after a half-hour conference with United States Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles.

See Solidarity

Welles called on Ruiz-Guinazu at his hotel. No correspondents were present and no details of the conference were revealed.

But as they parted, newspapermen were on hand and heard Welles say to the foreign minister:

"I feel that hemisphere solidarity will be strengthened today.

"I think you are right," was the Argentine's reply.

Urges Sweeny For Governor

Ivor Davis Heads Move To Have Cabinet Member Named

A new hat was tossed into the gubernatorial ring today, the name of E. Arthur Sweeny, Secretary of Welfare as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination at the spring primary. Mr. Sweeny's name was projected by Ivor V. Davis of New Castle, Republican State Committeeman for Lawrence County.

Mr. Davis today mailed letters to each of the other state committeemen of the party asking them to give the name of Mr. Sweeny consideration as a candidate for the Republican nomination. In part he said this, "many people in this part of the state, as well as myself, believe that Western Pennsylvania has a man who measures up to the qualifications, which would cause us to seriously consider him for the high office of governor of our commonwealth. Mr. Sweeny has done an excellent job as Secretary of Welfare and is admirably qualified to serve as the governor. I ask you to give him serious consideration."

Guffey Would Be Candidate For Governor

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senator Joseph F. Guffey (D) Pa., loomed today as the possible Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania following a six-hour meeting here of state Democratic leaders that failed to resolve basic differences between the Guffey and Lawrence factions of the organization.

Guffey, in a prepared speech to the state leaders, declared that while he was not a candidate for the gubernatorial race, he would become one if his party was faced with a "breakdown" resulting from its inability to pick a candidate which all factions would support.

Capture Of Medyn Menaces Nazi Line Of Retreat Near Smolensk

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Jan. 15.—Red army forces unleashed a huge new drive on the 150-mile Moscow front in an effort to wipe out all remaining Nazi defenses and encircle some 200,000 German troops.

As the great frontal push gained impetus, the Russian high command announced recapture of the strategic town of Medyn, 25 miles west of Maloyaroslavetz.

On the southern front Soviet forces pushed closer to the gates of Kharkov and in the Crimea drove across the base of the Perekop Isthmus in a race to trap large German and Rumanian forces in the Crimean peninsula.

The Moscow radio said violent battles were reported raging on the lines outside Kharkov, where the Germans threw in reinforcements in an effort to prevent a Soviet break-through.

Capture of Medyn by the Russians, this account added, brought the left tentacle of the Russian pincer within 38 miles of the only Nazi line of retreat along the Moscow-Smolensk road.

For the first time since the central (Moscow) front counter-offensive began, heavy frontal pressure was brought to bear against Mozhaisk.

Auto Use Stamps On Sale Friday

Stock Of 20,000 Stamps Reaches Postoffice Here During Day

The new Federal Motor Vehicle Use Tax stamps go on sale Friday morning at 8 at the main post office and at the Mahoningtown branch, Postmaster William R. Hanna announced today.

A stock of 20,000 of the new Liberty Bell stamps arrived from Pittsburgh this morning—and the post office immediately ordered two main windows prepared for their sale tomorrow and every day from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturday the auto stamps will be sold up until 4 p. m.

In most cities the stamps will sell for $2.09—but here they'll sell for $2.10.

Here's why:

Every stamp purchaser will pay $2.10 and will be handed a stamp and a return postal card (already stamped) for mailing to the Pittsburgh collector of internal revenue. In most cities the return card will not be stamped, and stamp buyers in the end will have a pay $2.10 anyway.

"It'll be an accommodation, we think," Hanna said, "and it will prevent people from carrying the card around. There are penalties for not mailing in the card."

To operate a car during February, a stamp must be bought for $2.10 before February 1.

While stamps hold to the $2.10 rate up until February 28, they'll be cheaper if purchased in later months. Bought after March 1 the cost will be $1.67; after April 1, $1.25; after May 1, 84 cents, and after June 1, 42 cents. Stamps for the July 1, 1942-July 1, 1943 fiscal year will go on sale then for $5.

The postmaster had this tip for stamp buyers:

"Have the change ready. Two dollars and a dime. The waiting line will not be so long then."

Crack 17,000 Ton Japanese Liner Sunk In Far East

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The navy announced today that an American submarine has sunk a crack 17,000 ton Japanese liner in the Far East.

The navy, in a communique, said the ship was of the Yawata class, one of three which was completed in 1939 and believed to be the speediest Japanese merchant ship afloat.

While the navy gave no other information regarding the sinking, a spokesman said that at least one of the Yawata class ships was known to have been converted into an aircraft carrier by the enemy.

Concerning the destroyed Jap liner, Lloyd's register states that the 557-foot merchant ship had the very latest equipment, including direction finders and echo landing devices.

One of the ships broke all speed records between Yokohama and San Francisco after she was completed.

The navy department's 28th communique as of 12:50 p. m. E. S. T., read:

"Far East—A 17,000 ton Japanese merchant ship of the Yawata class has been sunk by an American submarine."

While the navy continued its fighting at sea, the American forces in the Philippines fought off air and ground attacks from the Japanese.

British Declare Malaya Situation 'Extremely Grave'

LONDON, Jan. 15.—British authorities declared today that the military situation in Malaya, where the Japs are advancing toward Singapore, still is "extremely grave."

They said operations on the Malayan front are continuing but have not yet reached the "climactical status of a pitched battle."

Misgivings increased in London after 37 hours had passed without a new communique from Singapore.

More demands arose for full information regarding the exact seriousness of the Japanese threat to the great British Far Eastern Base.

SINGAPORE, Jan. 15.—British imperial forces today were reported still gradually falling back toward the southern Malayan plain, but rain that covered roads with mud seemingly impeded the Japanese advance.

In addition, British sappers planted land mines, blew up bridges and placed other obstacles in the path of the Nipponese invaders pushing southward toward Singapore.

Latest reports said the fighting had diminished somewhat in intensity as the battle-weary British imperials, heavily outnumbered by the Japs, fell back to new positions in the Seremban region some 150 miles north of this far eastern British base.

Command Change In Middle East

Gen. Auchinleck Heading Forces

To Direct All British Forces In Iraq And Iran In Future

BELIEVE MOVE IS DEFENSE BENEFIT

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The British war office announced today that command of all British Indian land forces in Iraq and Iran has passed from the commander-in-chief for India to Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, commander of British forces in the middle east.

The announcement said the change was necessitated by recent developments and carried out in accordance with the policy of ensuring a coordinated command for each strategic area of major importance.

The war office said that under this plan the outward defenses of India both on the east and west now are in the hands of two distinguished soldiers, "who having recently been commanders-in-chief for India are in an exceptional position to view the situation with full appreciation of India's point of view."

Gen. Auchinleck controls India's outward defenses on the west while Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, new supreme commander of anti-axis forces in the Pacific, is in charge on the east.

Prior to taking his present post, Wavell succeeded Auchinleck as commander for India, while the latter took over Wavell's earlier post as commander in the middle east.

STIMSON TELLS OF EXPANSION PLAN FOR ARMY

draft act at a much accelerated rate, Stimson declared that air combat units would be doubled, that 22 new divisions would be added to the ground forces and that a large proportion of them would be fully motorized. He also said that armored units would be increased.

Ahead Of Schedule

The secretary said, further, that expansion of the army is ahead of schedule, "and so we are making good progress."

In line with formation of new units of men, the war department has moved to speed up construction of camps and training centers.

While the exact strength of the army now is regarded as restricted military information, atest available figures before war broke out on December 7 last year placed the strength of the army at 1,600,000 men.

The secretary said "we are building nine camps for 3,000 men each, expanding all training centers and posts so that capacity will be increased by some 200,000, and setting up temporary tent camps."

The secretary explained that through this building program the war department hopes to accommodate all recruits as fast as they are inducted. He emphasized that "some soldiers may be sent outside the continental United States and their quarters left for new men."

The first making of brass in North America was attempted by John Winthrop Jr. in his iron foundry at Lynn, Mass., in 1644.

DELEGATES FROM 21 AMERICAN NATIONS IN WAR CONFERENCE

among the conferees increased, delegates remained divided on some aspects of anti-axis measures.

The delegates were split into three groups with regard to the chief proposal that the American republics break all relations with the axis nations.

One group favored a declaration of war, another a rupture of diplomatic relations, and a third a policy of strict non-belligerency — while little Ecuador threatened to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery with a demand that her border dispute with Peru be settled before any other negotiations were opened.

The delegation from Ecuador remained firm in their threat to bolt the conference unless it agreed in advance to seek a formula for settlement of the ancient dispute.

Argentina Opposes War

Meanwhile, Argentina fell into the lead of those nations least inclined to cooperate with the United States in declaring overt war against the axis powers.

At the opposite extreme was a group led by Santo Domingo, asking for an out and out declaration of war on the axis.

Midway between these extremes is Mexico, with support from Columbia and Venezuela, which will advocate a diplomatic rupture with the axis powers.

According to Esequiel Padilla, Mexican foreign minister, a determined attempt will be made to draw the Mexican and Santo Domingan groups together, basing a unanimous agreement on Mexico's policy.

Foreign Minister Alberto Guani Guani of Uruguay has announced that he has an assurance from 13 of the nations that they will support a resolution favoring a rupture of relations with the axis.

Santo Domingo's delegation has planned to present a resolution for outright declaration of war at the scheduled opening of the conference today. However, this is not expected to pass.

Undersecretary of State Welles is understood to have held detailed conferences on the Ecuador-Peru dispute, possible snag to convention proceedings, on the eve of the opening.

Argentina's attitude remained a matter of concern to the United States delegation. In public utterances Senor Guinazu would say only that Argentina will adhere to its "traditional policies" at the meeting. Acting President Ramon S. Castillo of Argentina has announced in Buenos Aires that he will stand behind the nation's delegation in refusing to take any prebelligerent action or form military alliances with any nation.

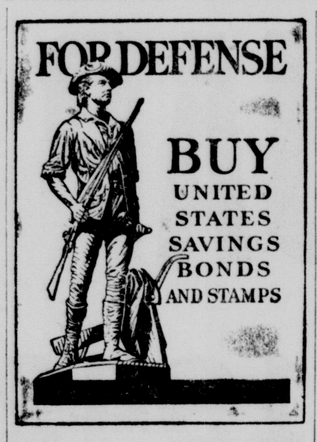
Scotch troops, was the sole outlet to the sea for the entire Halfaya area.

Meanwhile, the El Agheila area of Libya, 300 miles westward of Halfaya Pass, "further satisfactory progress" was achieved, according to the official communique, in operations harrying the rear of the retreating Axis forces.

British air force units heavily bombed forces of Gen. Erwin Rommel's army which is attempting to establish a defense line from El Agheila southwards in the desert.

Enemy bombers conducted an attack on the northern delta of Cairo, said the communique, but scored no casualties and no damage.

Still, no section of the country would resent meddling by another section that had no faults or problems of its own.



Air Raid Warning Plans To Be Made

System To Be Devised By City Engineer On Council Orders

Although council does not believe that any air-raids will occur here, they made it obvious this morning during council session they intend to act on the presumption that there will be air raids.

And in accordance with this presumption, City Engineer Glenn R. Throop was ordered to immediately prepare plans for air-raid warnings that can be heard in every section of the city.

When the plans are drafted they will be made available to the State Council of Defense.

The subject was developed by receipt of a letter by Mayor Charles B. Mayne. It was a questionnaire from the state council asking various questions concerning proposed air-raid precautions.

The state council wants to know what material is on hand and how much is needed.

City Engineer Throop said no material is here. He said that fire engine sirens have proved inadequate to convey warnings when tried in other cities.

It was suggested that sirens of sufficient strength could be connected with the Gamewell system and installed in an appropriate section in each of the eight wards.

Council demonstrated the body wants raid warnings erected and in working order so that if an air raid should come the city will be prepared.

It is generally recognized New Castle is only one hour's flight from the Atlantic coast. It isn't probable an enemy plane could escape interceptors but council said they believe in preparedness, hence the order to Throop.

"hotly pursuing the British," who were described as "fleeing in confusion."

(There was no other verification of this Japanese claim, which was not included in the official Tokyo war communique.)

The easing in the fighting was credited to demolition work carried out by British engineers which prevented the Japs from pushing the withdrawing forces too hard.

Front Shortening

While the situation on the shortening and more southerly fighting front was regarded as serious, the work of the British sappers was seen as a factor which would permit the defenders to consolidate a new line across the narrowest part of the Malayan peninsula.

Informed quarters pointed out that as the British keep retiring their lines constantly become shorter and more defensible.

At some points across the straits of Johore the distance from the Strait of Malaca to the South China seacoast is but 70 or 80 miles, whereas in the Seremban area the Malayan peninsula is 120 miles broad.

Since the evacuation of Kuala Lumpur the British retirement has been carried out in orderly fashion along the Malayan west coast area, with flocks of American-built trucks carrying men, munitions and supplies southward along the highways.

Latest reports indicated that while the British have suffered losses, their army in Malaya is still intact and ready for more action, although the Japanese numerical superiority is now about four to one.

UNITED STATES EXTENDS ECONOMIC WARFARE TO FIVE NATIONS

tries who are known to represent, or to have connections with, Axis interests, were slapped on the American blacklist.

This action deprives those firms and individuals of the benefits of American trade by making it a criminal offense for any American firm or individual to have any dealings with them.

Furthermore, it was learned on high authority that the embargo against the blacklisted firms and individuals of those countries will apply indirectly to their trade with Latin America. Any Latin American firm which deals with the barred European firms or nationals will be liable to be outlawed itself.

In view of the close trade connections which Spain and Portugal have with the Latin American nations, the effect of this move is considered of tremendous importance.

Neutrals On Spot

The American government's action not only tightens the ecoonmic blockade against the Axis powers, but it also notifies the five neutral nations of Europe that economically, at least, they must decide on which side they intend to stake their future in the present world struggle.

It tells their private citizens, in effect, that if they trade with the Axis, they cannot trade with the United States or Latin America.

All Axis firms in the five neutral countries, especially the German and Italian companies or their branch offices, have been placed on the American blacklist. Thus, any national or any of the five countries who has regular dealings with those Axis firms cannot engage in any trade with the United States.

The American economic embargo applies to the possessions and foreign interests of the European neutrals as well. In this connection, the American government took special action against Axel Wenner-Gren, noted Swedish industrialist, who some time ago was reported to have brought a Nazi peace plan to the United States. Wenner-Gren's offices in Mexico and Peru are included in the blacklist.

NEW STAMP PLAN

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., was urged by State Sen. John H. Dent to push for the sale of defense stamps in the nation's public schools. "Placing stamps on sale in public schools will help the defense effort and give young America a lesson in thrift and savings," wrote Dent.

Scouts Plan For Emergency Aid

Will Be On Duty At Fires, Accidents And Other Emergencies In City

Uniformed Boy Scouts wearing "Emergency Service" arm bands will be conspicuous at major New Castle fires, accidents and other emergencies during coming months according to plans of the Lawrence County Boy Scout council.

Last night one representative from each of the New Castle districts 18 troops met with key scouters to spur the intensive training for any local civilian disaster.

Mock 'Blackout' Tests

"Boys tied intricate knots in the dark last night, and did other things under blackout conditions—and did them well," Scout Executive John J. Finnessy said. "You can depend upon these lads for emergencies."

The group of 18 in turn will instruct their fellow scouts in all the troops within the coming months. They will specialize—and are now specializing—in first aid, fire-fighting, accident service and the like.

Adult leaders who saw last night's demonstration at council headquarters, 328 Highland avenue, were E D. Hawk, New Castle district commissioner; M. J. McCluskey, county chairman of campaign; Scoutmaster H. E. Rodgers of Troop 15, Scoutmaster R. E. McConaghy of Troop 55, and Cecil F. Suber, key scouter and city police officer.

"RUSSIA" THEME FOR WOMAN'S CLUB GROUP

Unusual interest surrounded the program on "Russia" presented by the International Relations Department of Woman's Club, in the home of Mrs. William Cosel, North Jefferson street, on Wednesday afternoon

One thousand years of Russian history, tracing the rule of conquest, feudalism, czarism, mysticism and the approach of communism were graphically outlined by Mrs. William Marraf. The foreign policy of the Kremlin, fluctuating as it has to the benefit of the Soviet, was traced by Mrs. E. H. Willmarth.

Life in Russia today under Stalin, as experienced by the wife of a foreign engineer engaged in the technical upbuilding of the U. S. S. R., was described by Mrs. Bruno Sachs, guest speaker. Many questions invited a wide survey of the educational artistic, social and political fields.

An informal Russian tea followed during which Mrs. Walter W. Duff, chairman and Mrs. J. Clyde Gilfillan, presided at the tea table.

Among the guests was Mrs. Bernard Lucas, of Gardner, Maine.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, February 11, with Mrs Walter W. Duff of Leasure avenue

WIMODAUSIS CLUB "BIRTHDAY PARTY"

In observance of being organized for 37 years, the Wimodausis club women gathered in the Scottish Rite Cathedral Wednesday for a "birthday party," which took the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Places were arranged for 85 guests, with Mrs. Bert McKibben and Mrs. Harry Remley presiding as co-hostesses in charge. They were aided with the menu by Mrs. G. D. Hildebrand, Mrs. Clyde Griffith, Mrs. J. L. Ringer, Mrs. A. J. Slaver, Mrs. Ed. McKibben, Mrs. Warren Broadbent, Mrs. Richard Johnston, Mrs. Bruce Love, Mrs. M. J. Young and Mrs. Everette McCreary. Patriotic appointments were cleverly used, the tables forming a huge "V" and in the center, a smaller arrangement held a large tiered birthday cake, decorated with red, white and blue frosting.

Mrs. George Bollinger, president of Wimodausis, in behalf of the club, presented a vase of flowers to Mrs. Frank Woods, their first president and a charter member. A corsage was also given to another past president and charter member, Mrs. W. A. Taylor, who shared honors.

After partaking of the delicious menu, a business session was conducted in the East Lodge room of the Cathedral, when Mrs. Ralph Ramsey, membership chairman, gave her report of their recent contest. It was decided that instead of holding a banquet for the winning side, which has been the custom, this year Wimodausis women will gather in the Cathedral on a date to be announced, and give their time to knitting and sewing for the American Red Cross.

An impressive memorial service was observed, Mrs. Bollinger turning over this part of the program to Mrs. W. A. Thornton, bringing the afternoon to a close.

PICTURE IN THE PACIFIC

THE War in the Pacific is holding the virtually undivided attention of the American people as the conflict in that area grows in scope and intensity almost daily. There is a feeling in this country that Russia has cooked Hitler's goose and that Japan now is the number one menace to the United States and to the world.

This conclusion may be based upon insufficient facts and may prove to be grievously erroneous, but for the moment at least the American people are watching developments in the Far East and leaving Hitler to the mercies of the Russian winter and the Russian armies.

And the Far East has developed into a holocaust of major proportions, even for this war. Japan has plowed ahead on seven fronts until her gains stack up as a formidable achievement. The cost has been great and the Allied resistance gallant but the opposition to Nippon's progress on the whole has been of a delaying rather than stone wall nature.

The picture in the East may change soon or it may drag along in its present course for months. One thing that must be remembered is that to date the Japanese have not encountered large concentrations of Allied troops or armament. Hong Kong was defended by 7,500 men, the Philippines by more, but mostly natives. Pearl Harbor, because of the nature of the attack, could not bring its defenses into action in time.

But at Singapore and in the Dutch East Indies the Japanese are running into larger and better equipped forces of Allied soldiers, supported by aircraft and naval vessels. Upon the outcome of the fighting in these two sectors—and, perhaps, in China—will depend hopes for an early end of the war.

If Singapore holds out, as its defenders predict it will, and if the Dutch continue to display the ardor exhibited by them ever since the beginning of the war, the loss to Japan in men, warships, planes and other armament may prove devastating.

So the picture the War in the Pacific presents today is one of fierce fighting on seven fighting fronts, with the Allies putting up a magnificent fight everywhere but unable to hold on because they were unprepared for large scale attacks. The initial advantage has been Japan's, but undoubtedly men and armament of all kinds are being rushed to the scenes of hostilities by Britain and the United States. When assistance of sufficient strength reaches the beleagured Allied forces, the tide of battle will change with a vengeance.

This leaves the question of the moment, which is how long will be required to assemble armies, the navy, the air forces and their equipment necessary to halt the Japs, and transport them to the battle areas. The second question is how great will be the Japanese gains before this devoutly to be hoped for development occurs. This is really the crux of any speculation as to the immediate future in the Pacific.

If Japanese gains can be prevented from becoming too formidable, a spring offensive by the Allies is entirely possible. With the Nipponese on the defense several months after the beginning of the war, the end of the conflict might be in sight.

But if the Japanese should continue to gain territory for months before they are brought to a standstill, the advantage in resources and position that would fall to the invaders would render hope of an early reverse uncertain.

One aspect of the conflict in the Pacific that has not become clear to most persons is the extent of the territory encompassed in the hostilities. Available maps, made to accompany current events in that theater of war, are misleading because of two limitations. They are flat and they are foreshortened.

This may accommodate the eye of the reader for the moment, but at the same time it distorts the geographical facts. Tokyo, from which the Japanese campaign against Singapore is being directed, is made to appear fairly near that key fortress. Singapore is 3,300 miles from the Japanese capital, a distance comparable to that between London and New York.

The thrust Japan is making for Singapore calls for naval support to keep open this long line of communication with the home base and if the American and British fleets fail to close it, only lack of aerial support can be a valid reason.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE TREE?

Helen Grant Wilson, garden expert, says there is more than one use for a discarded Christmas tree. A community "burn and sing," as practiced in Lakewood, O., is a good way to prevent the tree from becoming a fire hazard and to let it end up in a blaze of glory. The trees are all gathered and dumped in a safe place, with the fire department on guard. They make a great bonfire, visible a long way off, and the songs and carols sung around it help knit the community together.

A tree can be burned in the family fireplace—but only a bit at a time, lest it endanger the chimney or its burning sparks the neighborhood.

Or it can be stood in a corner of the yard as a bird feeder. Cracked wheat, corn, sunflower or other seeds are stirred into hot suet and dribbled over the branches. Birds will like it.

Letting the tree roll bedraggled on a dump where a tossed cigaret may catch it is zero in sentiment and practicality. Let it be useful in its end as it was beautiful in its beginning.

Progress made in development of synthetic rubber has been slow, but the test tubes will now begin to boil.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WISE MOTHER WINS FATHER'S HELP

Many mothers write to complain that the husband takes no interest in the care and guidance of the children. Some add that the father will scold the mother when he thinks the children are not so well disciplined as he thinks they should be, especially if they don't obey him promptly.

Some fathers seem to believe that they made their major contribution when they selected a good mother for their children, even reserving the right to remind her when they believe she does not measure up to all their expectations.

The average father is not given the opportunity, while the child is a mere infant, to learn to care for him, although he could learn to do anything for his child but give him natural food, so it is not easy for to assume responsibility to share equally with the mother in guidance of the child as he grows older.

The wise mother begins as early as possible to win the father's active participation in the care and upbringing of the child, and sets the stage so he will gain satisfaction from doing so.

The Right Idea

The mother who wrote the following letter hit upon the right idea.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Recently in your column you wrote about fathers who did not cooperate with their wives in rearing their children. Perhaps my experience will help some young mother. I sincerely hope so, because fathers are very important in a child's life.

"When my first child was born I naturally took it for granted that my husband would make as much fuss about her as I did, but he didn't. Something had to be done and done quickly, for I wanted my children to have the love and companionship of a good father.

"Instead of finding fault with my husband, I took inventory of myself and found that I was all wrapped up in my baby. I forgot it was our baby. I did everything for the child but breathe for her.

Next, I realized I did not pay any attention to my husband. He felt as though he was needed for financial reasons only, which is not true or right. So I began to pay some attention to our daddy. Then I asked his advice about the child, and took it. When my husband said no or yes to the child it remained so. Daddy was right. If he spanked her, I did not take her side.

Father Cooperates

"My husband began to take an interest in our child; they became friends. He now cooperates beautifully where our children are concerned. I can talk over any problem I have with him, and he is more than willing to help. If he does or says something to the children I think is not right, I talk to him when he are alone. I do not tell him he is worng, but suggest a better way of saying or doing the same thing.

"To most mothers, daddy does not have a very important place in the child's life. Some mothers would be surprised to hear how proud the children are of their daddy and how much they love him. I first realized this when someone asked our children which they liked better, mother or daddy. Neither child knew what to say, and both finally said they could not choose; they wanted both mother and daddy."

Solving Parent Problems

Q. When I take my 2½-year-old shopping with me she will pull her hand out of mine and dash into the street or run about the store.

A. You might put her in harness but a better way is to train her while at home in the unambiguous meaning of that precious monosyllable NO, using your hand at the proper place when necessary. Such training might save your youngster's life.

One Man's Opinion

The new war labor board takes the place of the national mediation board which took the place of suspended arbitration.

The new board has more members but the fine print in the setup reads the same.

There is nothing in the text of the order which says "there ain't gonna be no strikes and there ain't gonna be no lockouts, positively, absolutely and definitely."

The order says: "The board shall finally determine the dispute." The phrase is familiar—haven't we met before?

Two members resigned when the national mediation board ruled on the coal strike. The new board has more members to insure a quorum in case of sudden pouts.

Doc Steelman settled the coal strike. John Lewis and big steel compromised and John took all.

Doc was released from his government post to represent the public in the settlement. It seems that government and public are one horse with two flowing manes.

Thought for the Day: The war labor board will have umpires when what it needs is a pitcher with a good fast ball.

HATS OFF IN MOVIES

"Recently at a Movie, a woman in front of me sat with a large hat on, obstructing my view of the screen. Since the theater was crowded, making it impossible for me to change my seat, I asked her politely to remove her hat. She refused. An usher came down the aisle, so I explained my predicament to him. He stated that he had not the authority to make her remove her hat. So, there I was with my view obscured during the entire show. Several of my friends have defended the woman's attitude, stating that it is a nuisance to disarrange one's hair—do by remvoing one's hat. Do you think I was justfied in my complaint?"—Cathy.

Answer: You were more than justified! I have never heard of a greater display of rudeness and ignorance than that shown by this woman. Unless theater managements will come to the rescue of their patrons as they formerly did, there is nothing you can do in such a situation but put up with the inconvenience, for doubtless she is the type of woman who is so crude that she has never learned the full meaning of the word, courtesy. Anyone with a normal brain knows that it is impossible to see over or around a hat, even a small one.

Question: As we all probably know, it is correct for a woman in speaking of her husband to say "my husband" and not "Mr. Smith." Is it equally correct for a woman speaking of Mrs. Smith to say "your husband" and not "Mr. Smith"?—Betty.

Answer: Both are correct.

Question: I am going to a dinner dance very shortly. I expect to wear a dinner dress. Will it be correct for my escort to wear a dark business suit?—Mary.

Answer: No. Inasmuch as you will wear dinner clothes, he must also.

Question: I am going to be married at a somewhat informal home wedding, at which I shall wear a dinner dres, and the groom his dinner jacket. Must the mothers of the bride and groom wear dinner clothes also?—Bride.

Answer: Yes, the mothers of the bride and the groom should wear dinner clothes, so should the attendants, as well as the guests.

In the cities of Egypt there flourishes a system of five scales of prices. One for Egyptians; a second, ten per cent higher, for all the Arabic-speaking peoples; a third, 100 per cent higher, for the black, brown or yellow folk who do not speak Arabic; a fourth, 500 per cent higher, for Europeans, and the fifth, unhampered by any limit and gaged only by the gullibility of the buyer, for tourists from the United States

Wallace Proves Success As Allocater
Vice President Is Efficient Organizer
Man In Office Is Usually Figurehead

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Vice President Henry A. Wallace doesn't advertise himself much, but he's increasingly talked about in Washington for the efficiency of his work as an organizer of our wartime productive activities.

Traditionally the vice presidential receptacle is a tomb-like cavity within which its occupant is sealed up securely, never to be heard from more, following the ceremony of his induction into it, except, occasionally, in the event of his disinterment to fill an unexpected vacancy in the White House. Vice President John N. Garner did, indeed, attract a certain amount of post mortem attention, but he did it only conversationally, not on account of anything in particular that he actually was accomplishing. Henry Wallace, though, gets tangible results from his work as the Supply Priorities and Allocations Board's head. He doesn't brag about 'em to the public, but they're too obvious to escape notice.

Now a scheme's being evolved to expand his executive authority.

It isn't alone that industry needs channelling from peacetime into wartime allocationing among our various wartime departments and agencies. Their demands conflict, as between themselves. The army wants things ahead of the navy and vice versa. The air corps considers itself neglected. The merchant marine folk contend that their service is as vital to our all-out effort as are army, navy and aviation. And, of course, military supplies to Britain, China and the East Indian Dutch are as essential, for our own as well as their campaigning, as Uncle Sam's are.

Latin America Complians

The Latin Americas likewise complain that they're insufficiently considered, and they have at least potential military value. As offensive fighters they don't weigh materially, but they do so defensively, and they clamor for equipment.

Now, as an allocater Henry Wal-

NEED'S MUST

The rich go South, out many stay at work,
And brave the rigors which the wealthy shirk;
They shovel snow and trudge the slushy street,
Get frozen ears and noses and wet feet;
Keep fires aglow and wheels upon the move,
And keep the old world running in its groove.

'Tis nice of course to lie upon the sand,
To hear the music of some modern band;
Dance 'neath the moon where palm trees gently sway,
Play golf, attend the races every day.
It's very pleasant where the weather's warm,
But there is something real about a storm.

It's very nice at times at ease to bask,
But there is something good about a task;
And something good in cloth and leather stout,
And a high pride in sticking hardship out.
For when you've felt the breath of winter sting,
You'll give a happier welcome to the spring.

I envy not the ones who run away,
But envy those who have the grit to stay;
"Needs Must," 'tis said, but 'tis the pride of man,
What need must do, however hard, it can!
What were this world, if till the first of May,
We all were rich enough to go away?

The invasion of Russia by Hitler and the German forces has disclosed to the world, following that Russian campaign, the names of cities and villages in Russia which have heretofore been practically unknown to millions of citizens of this nation.

Most of the geographic knowledge possessed by citizens is derived from school geographies. In a very few instances there are some Americans to be found who have traveled in Russia, but not many. This campaign has sent the inquisitive to examine the great Atlases of the world, and yet with the aid of these Atlases, they are unable to find such cities as Rzhev, Klin Kalinin, Maloyaroslavets, Mozhaisk. They, of course, will find Leningrad, Moscow, Odessa, Kiev, Sevastopol, but when the newspapers recount twenty or thirty villages that the Russians have occupied, some of which the

Face The Realities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—It is human and natural not to suffer very greatly from the abstract. Only when sacrifices become concrete and actual does pain really become acute. While everybody knows that the shortage of rubber, which means no more tires, is a blow certain to hurt millions of people in many different ways, not until the automobiles have become actually useless, which means in a very few months, will the full impact be felt.

It is futile to point out that this shortage need never have occurred; that it is due to lack of foresight upon the part of those in control in Washington; that it involves not only vast inconvenience but greatly increased danger from motors driven on worn-out tires. All these things—and more—are true, but they do not alter the fact that not for a long time will there be tires available for civilian use and that that is going to change living conditions everywhere very greatly. Our new subsidized synthetic rubber plants will have all they can do to supply military needs for more than a year. The optimistic forecast for 1943 by Mr. Jesse Jones does not alter the situation very much.

To a certain extent these things are appreciated now and people are getting ready to do without their automobiles. What is not appreciated, however, is that living without automobiles is only one of the things which we will have to get used to very shortly. Other large industries are about to be curtailed. Some of them will be chopped off sharply; others will be gradually reduced through priorities and other methods. The government plan is to force them into war production wherever it is possible to convert for that purpose. But, where it is not possible to convert, the plan is to force them to release men and materials needed for war production.

The big idea, so far as possible, is to force every business and individual to shift to a war basis. The pressure to do this will be irresistable and the dislocation very great. Most people will be affected heavily; everybody will be affected some. There will be no exceptions. As conversion to war uses progresses and plant after plant ceases making things for civilians, shortages in many things—in fact, practically everything, will develop. The automobiles are just the start. Right now, they seem an overwhelming deprivation but before this year is out we will be deprived of so many other things to which we are accustomed that the pain of that deprivation will just be part of the whole. We may as well face the realities now.

This is not mere talk; this is the truth, and the people ought to grasp the facts now and recognize their

A burglar broke into the home of William H. Small at Leonia, N. J.

He gathered a lot of fancy loot in his bag, but when the Small family returned home late in the evening they found the bag and booty in the room where Tak-na-o-mah is kept, and overturned furniture and crumpled rugs were mute evidence that the burglar had made a hasty exit.

Tak-na-a-har is a mummy of an Egyptian prince which had been given to Small 30 years ago. It is in an almost perfect state of preservation. Once a year the late Royal Highness is given a rubdown with oil, the night of the burglary was the night of his annual shampoo.

"Probably the burglar thought it was a ghost," chuckled Small, "when he saw it in the dark room."

Enemy Aliens Will Be Issued 'Identifications'

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Attorney General Francis Biddle said today that beginning next February all enemy aliens in this country over 14 years of age will be issued "certificates of identification".

The identification cards, to be issued to 1,100,000 German, Italian and Japanese nationals, will bear the alien's photograph, index fingerprint and signature.

All the enemy aliens are required to take to their post office a photograph of themselves, and to answer a number of questions "concerning their current activities".

The aliens will be required to keep the identification certificate (which will resemble an ordinary "driver's license") with them at all times. Failure to comply, Biddle said, may result in severe penalties, including possible internment for the duration.

First issue of the cards will be made to all German, Italian and Japanese nationals in the west coast states. The aliens are required to file applications between Feb. 2 and Feb. 7, inclusive. Applications by aliens in the rest of the country, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, will be taken between Feb. 9 and Feb. 28, inclusive. All other areas in U. S. possession, the attorney general explained, are in command of the army.

HUGE NEW DRIVE OPENED BY REDS BEFORE MOSCOW

mentator, said the last stage of positional warfare had been completed with the recent capture of Dorokhovo.

Russians Attacking

The fighting on the Moscow front now is a war of motion, he said, with the Russians attacking everywhere from Lyudinovo to Rzhev.

The midnight communique said that "our troops continued to advance westward" and added:

"As a result of stubborn engagements, our units captured numerous trophies and occupied a number of inhabited localities, including Medyn."

Mozhaisk was the focal point of the Russian assault and there about 100,000 Nazi troops were being mercilessly pounded by shellfire from the east after their northern and southern flanks were enveloped by Soviet pincers.

Another 100,000 Nazis were being engaged northwest and southwest of Mozhaisk.

Entering Kharkov Suburbs

On the Donetz front, Russian dispatches said, charging Russian forces were declared to have broken the Nazi dfeense line before Kharkov and to have penetrated the "Russian Pittsburgh's" eastern suburbs.

(Stockholm dispatches to London said the Soviet shock troops advancing on Kharkov were only eight miles from the center of the city and that the battle before Kharkov was one of the biggest of the war.)

Decisive results were expected momentarily in the Crimea, where the Germans and Rumanians were caught in a fast-closing trap, according to Russian reports.

Striking west from the Kerch peninsula in the eastern Crimea and occupying Kolai, a Soviet column was said to have pressed another 12 miles northwestward toward Jankoi just south of the Perekop isthmus which links the Crimea with the Russian mainland.

BRITISH DECLARE MALAYA SITUATION 'EXTREMELY GRAVE'

the operations "probably because it does not want to give information regarding its intentions or dispisitions until they have reached a definite stage."

The plain inference was that the British forces are still busy consolidating a new line of defense.

Dissatisfaction in both Britain and Australia over lack of news was brought to a head by Edgar Granville, M. P., who served notice that at the next sitting of the House of Commons he would seek to air the "unsatisfactory state of affairs with regard to the defense of Singaport and Australia, gravely threatening the communications and security of the British Empire, and the lack of official information as to what is occurring in the theatre of war."

Apprehension Grows

Silence of the British Far Eastern Command and the gradiose nature of the Japanese claims augmented apprehension over the situation.

Authorities in London at present admitted they had no idea when the next Singapore communique can be expected.

They also had no idea of the exact nature of the Malayan defense line held by the British or regarding the truth or otherwise of the latest Japanese claims.

(Editor's note: The Jap Domei News Agency claimed that Nipponese forces yesterday entered the Malayan State of Johore, southernmost of the federated Malay states situated just above Singapore Island.

(Domei also claimed that the "30,000 British" defending Singapore are now completely encircled.)

Commentators in London believe the Japanese are using a total of 100,000 troops in the Malayan drive, with four divisions taking part in a three-pronged advance down the Perinsula.

AWAIT GREATER JAPANESE DRIVE IN PHILIPPINES

smash the American-Filipino troops were repulsed, and, according to experts, the Japs paid a prohibitive toll in lives and equipment. Japan, however, probably emerged from those defeats fully prepared for what may prove the decisive thrust in the fight, tacticians said.

Although crushed in a curtain of shot and shell, the preliminary onslaughts showed the approximate strength of MacArthur's positions in North Bataan, observers asserted.

With this knowledge in hand, the Nipponese high command, according to qualified military spokesmen, may be expected to select one or two alternatives—a mass assault on the previously prepared defense positions in Bataan in concert with prolonged bombing of Manila Bay fortifications or else a temporary suspension of operations in the Philippines. Experts were confident that Japan would launch another attack as soon as their forces were maneuvered into position.

Drives "In Force"

The defense units, fighting from the wooded hillsides of Bataan, hurled back two "determined attacks" of Nipponese reconnaissance, the war department asserted. The drives were made "in force," according to the department, and the invaders suffered "heavy losses." MacArthur's casualties were "comparatively small."

In all, the Mikadoo's army has slashed at the Bataan line at least four times, and each time was repulsed.

None of the previous attacks, however, will compare with the full power of the widescale offensive that experts believed is in the offing.

While the nation's attention was focused sharply on home shores with the disclosure that a tanker had been torpedoed only 100 miles from New York Harbor, America moved to expand its war front in the Far East.

The war department said three U. S. bombers, cooperating with forces of the Netherland Indies, bombed a Japanese naval force off Borneo. This was the first official report of American operations in the Indies. The planes sank at least two Japanese lighters, possibly loaded with troops.

Nazi Hostage Methods

The nation's ire was raised further against Japan, meanwhile, when the war department, in a lengthy communique, described drastic threats imposed upon the civilians of occupied Manila.

Military experts said that these Japanese tactics are "almost a blueprint of the Nazi methods."

War department spokesman pointed out that the decrees are "unknown in the warfare of civilized peoples."

The Japanese military ruler of the Philippine capital warned the populace that the death penalty would be meted out to anyone attacking a Nipponese soldier or civilian. In a warning, which the war department said was published in Manila newspapers, the Jap warlord further decreed that if the guilty person was not apprehended, 10 prominent civilians would be held as hostages. It was not divulged what doom would be inflicted upon the hostages.

DUTCH RENEW ATTACKS UPON JAP INVADERS

troop transports steamed south from captured Tarakan island under repeated attacks by American and Netherlands bombers, apparently headed for Balik Papan, situated on the east coast of Borneo island.

U. S. Bombers Aid

(The war department in Washington announced American army bombers had participated in attacks on a Japanese naval force in the Tarakan region, destroying at least two enemy lighters.

(Balik Papan is a seaport outlet for Borneo oil. Complete preparations are understood to have been made to destroy the part, its facilities and refineries should the Japanese land there.

(A Reuters Singapore dispatch quoted a Batavia communique as announcing Netherlands bombers scored direct hits on four transports of the Jap fleet off Tarakan.)

Meanwhile, a party of correspondents, allowed to inspect vast munitions supplies stored in secret dumps in Java, described the dumps as "almost undetectable".

Camouflaged Dromes

(The Dutch had earlier taken correspondents on tour of camouflaged airdromes in the Netherlands East Indies. More than 50 of these "undetectable dromes" are said to be located in Java.)

The group of eye-witnesses said the scores of ammunition warehouses are so expertly hidden and camouflaged that the most clever Japanese spies "could not tell their bosses in Tokyo their exact location, even if they may know the approximate place."

Dutch military leaders established the hidden dumps many years ago, even camouflaging the approaching roads so they would be invisible from the air.

Eye-witnesses described the secret vaults as containing "millions and millions of bombs and shells and cartridges," as well as devices to prevent accidental explosion of the ammunition.

Willkie Declines Post As "Umpire"

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—Wendell L. Willkie will not accept appointment as "labor umpire" in President Roosevelt's strike administration set-up, persons close to him disclosed today.

The 1940 Republican Presidential nominee has decided such a position would be "a waste of time" for him, friends said. He still is available, however, to any Presidential call in which he can be of genuine worth to the prosecution of the war, they emphasized.

It was revealed in Washington that Willkie's name was being considered.

TANKER ATTACKED BY ENEMY SUB OFF EAST COAST

18 hours after an enemy submarine had fired three torpedoes at close range at the 9,577 ton tanker.

Men All Aliens

The captain and eight men, rescued by the fishing boat Malvina, were landed at New Bedford, and taken to Newport by naval automobile. The men, described as all aliens, were placed under medical care in naval custody pending action by immigration authorities, the admiral reported.

The rescued men, aside from the one reported seriously injured, were suffering from shock and exposure, Admiral Kalbfus said.

The Norness was still afloat, her bow above the water, when Admiral Kalbfus sent his report to the department at 12:30 a. m. today.

No further information is available at this time, the navy department stated.

Survivors Recovering

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 15.—Survivors from the first vessel torpedoed off the New England-New York coast in World War No. 2 were recovering today from the harrowing experience at the Newport naval torpedo station.

Thirty-nine officers and men from the Norwegian tanker Norness sunk by an enemy submarine 60 miles southeast of Montauk Point, L. I., and only 125 miles off New York harbor, were quartered at the station, one of the heaviest guarded islands in Newport harbor.

Three torpedoes from an enemy submarine torpedoed the Norness.

In spite of the triple torpedo attack, latest word from the navy department was that the vessel was still afloat.

Only one member of the crew of 40 aboard the tanker when the torpedo struck was reported missing. One of those rescued was reported in serious condition.

Meagre Information

Meagre information was given out by naval authorities.

All that was made public was that the Norness, a modern tanker of 9,577 tons was spotted awash yesterday morning in the sea off Montauk Point by a naval patrol plane.

The navy went into action with speed and secrecy. Rescue vessels raced to the Norness from all quarters and one of the first to reach the wallowing tanker was a destroyer. The destroyer picked up six officers and 24 men and rushed them to the torpedo base here.

No interviews were permitted with the survivors but it was said they were all Norwegian aliens. The fact they remained at the torpedo base which has limited infirmary accommodations indicated that none had suffered serious injury.

Picked Up By Fishing Boat

Later, it was revealed that Capt. Harold Hansen, master of the tanker and eight of his men had been picked up by the fishing boat Malvina and landed at New Bedford, Mass. Captain Hansen and his men were brought to the torpedo station by navy automobiles. It was then revealed that one man was missing from the tanker's crew and one man was seriously injured.

The Norness was flying the flag of Panama.

Naval officers declined to speculate on the nationality of the attacking submarine but said it was the nearest an enemy craft had come to these shores.

The torpedoeing of the Norness revealed presence of enemy submarines close to the industrial east coast for the first time since 1918 when U-boats shelled and sank ships off the New England and New Jersey coast.

The Norness was a 489-foot tanker, built in Hamburg, Germany and owned by the Tanker Corp. of Panama City, a subsidiary of Johan Rasmussen & Co. of Norway.

In union there is strength, and we'll suffer till one top authority can use army, navy and air forces to strike in coordination.

(International News Service)

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O.—A "Pearl Harbor Club" has been formed by a group of employes of the New Philadelphia office of the State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, based on an idea they hope will sweep the nation. Every time the U. S. or British navy sinks a Japanese battleship or aircraft carrier, each of the members will buy a one dollar defense savings stamp. When a Jap cruiser is destroyed, each member will purchase a 50-cent stamp, and a Nipponese sub or destroyer sent to the bottom will bring sales of 25-cent

Free Sixty Of Defendants In Lottery Trial

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15—Directed verdicts of acquittal today had freed 60 of the 68 defendants standing trial here on Federal charges that they had allegedly used the mails to defraud in operation of a giant, eight-tsate million-dollar lottery ring.

Federal Judge R. M. Gibson put a sudden end to the case that postal inspectors had worked on for two years by granting a defense motion that the government had failed to prove its charges of conspiracy and use of the mails in distribution of the so-called lottery tickets.

Judge Gibson directed the verdicts of acquittal after two more of the defendants changed their pleas to guilty. Previously, two others had pleaded guilty and four more pleaded no defense.

The men who changed their pleas yesterday were Joseph Bianco, formerly of Pittsburgh, but now of Miami, Fla., and Charles Oeffler, of Cleveland. They were named in direct testimony as having sent letters through the mail dealing with operations of the combine.

State Man Coming To Help Taxpayers

Revenue Department Agent Will Collect State Personal Property Tax

A state representative will be in New Castle and Ellwood City at intervals between January 19 and February 15 for the collection of the four-mill tax on personal property, Acting Secretary of Revenue Walter J. Kress advised county officials today.

George Demmy, acting for Kress' department, will be at the Court House every Thursday and Friday and at the Ellwood borough hall every Saturday morning of each week between those dates.

All persons holding stocks, bonds, mortgages, notes, annuities or other evidence of debt must file a return and pay the tax on February 15, the close of the taxing period.

In case of failure to file a return the law provides that the Department of Revenue may make an arbitrary assessment with added penalty.

The four-mill state personal property tax is identical with the tax collected by the county.

Canada Moves To Halt Activity By Enemy Aliens

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 14.—Safeguards against any possible subversive activities among the 24,000 Japanese residents on the Canadian-Pacific coast were announced today by Prime Minister MacKenzie King.

Protected areas in Canada are to be defined immediately. After a date to be announced all enemy aliens, except those who possess permits from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, will be required to move from such protected areas on the Pacific coast. Although the order is being applied to all enemy aliens, it is designed to deal with these Japanese. Arrangements, the prime minister said, will be made by the dominion government to provide accommodation for persons thus removed.

Whatever the cost—however long it takes—we've got to make sure it won't happen again every twenty years.

The Great Game Of Politics

inevitability. This is a global war in which this nation is threatened as never before in its history. The only way in which the war can be won is by concentration of all our resources and all our strength upon winning it. Our enemies are ruthless, skilled and equipped. They cannot be crushed by half measures. Victory cannot be achieved merely by paying taxes and buying bonds. The only way to win this war is by the conversion of the whole nation to the business of winning it.

Clearly, that cannot be done without imposing hardships upon all the people. It cannot be done without requiring, in addition to sacrifices of income, sacrifices of many other things—luxuries, conveniences, and even some things which we have come to consider necessities. That is the price we are going to have to pay for victory. It is an unescapable and a high price—but no matter how high, it must and should be paid. The sooner we begin to pay the cheaper it will be in the long run. And the government is everlastingly right in forcing us to convert, conserve and curtail. It is stark stupidity to hoard because of shortages, or to pull back because of the pressure. It is simply enlightened selfishness to cooperate with the government—and to cooperate wholeheartedly and cheerfully. What else is there to do, anyway?

What's What At A Glance

lace is proving himself a great success.

It's rather odd. He isn't an industrialist, but a farm newspaperman. Yet all hands agree that he has performed ultra-competently on the industrial allocations job, whereas Production Manager Bill Knudsen, industrially experienced if anybody ever was, has been prettly severely criticized. Plenty of fault has been found, too, with Bill's labor co-operator, Sidney Hillman, but Henry, who isn't a labor leader any more than he's an industrialist, has given given first rate satisfaction from the workers' standpoint.

And as to Latin America, the v. p.'s an expert. He gives useful tips to the state department concerning the New World's southern republics. He'd be a good envoy to send to 'em, only he's so serviceable at home that the government can't spare him.

Boosters for the assignment of still greater powers for him really want to transform him from a mere vice into an assistant president—the practical administrator of details that the president-in-chief is too busy to attend to directly. He's a horse for work, and, incidentally, a fast horse at it—as fast as chain lightning.

One of Henry's qualifications is his amiability. He doesn't antagonize those with whom he has dealings. Bill Knudsen does, more or less, and Sid Hillman even more so. It's manifestly undesirable to have a lot of grouchiness mixed into the situation. Henry gets his way, but he does it tactfully.

More Authority?

The idea's to invest him with the authority to decide controverted questions finally. Donald Nelson, as the Supply Priorities and Allocations Board's executive director, hasn't got it. If one of his rulings is disputed, he can't make is stick without a White House okay, and the White House is so thoroughly snowed under today that a good many snap judgments have to be made.

Of course President Roosevelt will have to be the court of last resort. However, judicial disputes, settled by a social tribunal, aren't all appealed to some state supreme bench and state decisions don't all go up to the federal "nine old men" on Capitol Hill. By the time a bunch of cases gets up to the ultimate group of magistrates, that bunch is radically reduced in volume. Just so with Director Nelson, Henry Wallace and F. D. R. Don Nelson would weed 'em out initially, Henry would sort some out and those that were left wouldn't land on the presidential desk in such quantities. Besides, Henry's standing with current disputants is so good that what he said undoubtedly would go with a lot of 'em.

In short, Henry's developing himself into a future presidential possibility, which is vice presidentially most unusual.

Erysipelas is more common than generally believed.

It is a bacterial infection of the skin.

Erysipelas causes intense itching, burning and inflammation.

The skin becomes swollen and painful.

Erysipelas is contagious.

In infants and aged persons it is serious, sometimes fatal.

Squeezing pimples on the face may precede the infection.

The inflammation begins to disappear on about the fourth day.

The patient begins to convalesce after about the eighth day.

One attack does not bring immunity.

The new sulfonamide drugs bring quick response and relief.

These drugs now take the place of former treatments.

The electric eel is able to discharge enough electricity to kill an animal of considerable size, and is said to possess enough power, when in full vigor, to knock down a man and benumb the limb afected in the most painful manner for several hours

The World and the Mud Puddles

German occupation has caused communication to be cut off with Leningrad and Moscow, the reader and map investigator has to be aided by modern newspaper maps. This is quite an education in geography.

Likewise, the campaign in Libia. Until this man's war occurred in North Africa, no attention had been paid to Tobruk, or Dernah, or Bengazi, or that part of Libia known as Cyrenaica. And further west of Bengazi is Tripoli—quiet a distance west. And if the reader will look at a large Atlas, he will find a great many villages located between Bengazi ,along the Gulf of Sidra, all the way to Tripoli, and Tripoli is the objective just now of the English forces.

In this connection, with all of the effort for world domination by the Axis Powers, it may be remembered that there is no Emperor of the Sahara. The Saraha has been entirely overlooked in this war . There are the Sheiks of the Sahara. There has been a great deal written about the Mohammedans of North Africa and it will be remembered that at one time, North Africa was ruled by Hannibal of the Carthaginians, and Hannibal might be considered the last of the Emperors of the Sahara.

Again, when modern warfare is considered—the fierce attacks of Hitler's legions, to say nothing of Pearl Harbor, Hannibal's campaign against Rome was, I believe, the most spectacular military effort in which the human ever engaged. Hannibal took his army, his great herd of elephants and camels, across the Strait of Gibraltar, through Spain and the Pyrences, through France (or at that time Gaul), over the Alps and down on the Tuscan plains to the gates of Rome. He was not stopped by the Roman legions; he was stopped by a woman. But that is another story.

Far-sighted, shrewd and able men saw what was coming and urged preparation. Why aren't these the ones to trust now?

The New York Times whines that freedom of the press is gone. What military secret did you wish to print.

The per capita consumption of the average person is 16 pounds.

Japanese Troops Being Pursued

Ten Thousand Jap Survivors Of Changsha Debacle Are In Peril

By C. E. GRAHAM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHUNGKING, Jan. 15 — Then thousand Japanese survivors of the Changsha debacle were pursued by Chinese troops north of the Milo river today at Chinese newspapers reopened their demands for a full-scale Chinese offensive against Thailand and Indo-China.

While a military spokesman warned that immediate attacks against the Japanese-held cities of Hankow and Canton should not be anticipated, he emphasized that Chungkink forces still were engaged in mopping up the Japanese Changsha forces. Hundreds of them, he said froze to death or drowned in the Milo river in their headlong flight.

The river, he said, is filled with corpses, while on its shores are the remains of funeral pyres hastily built to dispose of the dead. The Japs, he said, lost six-sevenths of their effectives in the futile Changsha offensive.

Some Japanese soldiers, disguised in dresses robbed from Chinese peasant women, said that they had not eaten for four days when captured, he said.

At 10:35 o'clock, an alarm from Box 49 summoned them to the home of Tony Marinelli, where the chimney was burning out. No action was taken.

Many Inquiries On Auto Stamps

Seventh Ward Station Will Give Information As Soon As Received

There have been many inquiries at the Mahoningtown Post Office during the last couple of days regarding the new Federal Motor Vehicle Tax stamps. Clerk John Robinson states that their office has no more information about these tax stamps than what has already been stated in "The News."

Patrons of the local office will be advised through the medium of the newspapers when the tax stamps have been received and put on sale here. Postmaster William R. Hanna has put in a request for 20,000 stamps for this city and district.

The initial stamps can be purchased for $2.09, and will entitle the operation of the car until July 1 of this year. Another stamp which will cost $5 must be purchased for the operation of the car for the year ending July 1, 1943.

The meeting will be on nutrition. Bonita Gordon, home economics extension representative, will be in charge. Anyone interested may attend.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT RED CROSS CIRCLE

GREEN LIGHTS TO MEET ON FRIDAY

At the home of Barbara Johnson of North Liberty street the Green Light Sunday school class of the Christian church will be entertained on Friday evening.

SMOKE AGAIN BELCHING FORTH

In "Tubetown" smoke belched forth again Wednesday afternoon from the stacks of the hot mill furnaces of the Shenango works, after an idleness of a week, due to a shortage of gas, on account of the extreme cold weather during that time. It was good to see the smoke, and the steam for power floating through the air. It indicated plenty of employment for our citizens, and a splendid effort toward defense.

BIRDS MISSING

In the park on Liberty street, there was not a bird to be seen in the trees Wednesday afternoon to brighten up the scene. Of course this can be attributed to the inclement weather that has recently prevailed. It makes us realize how much we owe our feathered friends for their cheerful chirp and song, for which we are looking forward to in the coming spring.

INSULATE BUILDING

Workmen have been busy at the Crescent theater, insulating the buildings, which it is claimed will make a big improvement. This will afford added comfort to the patrons of the theater, making it one of the most up-to-date theaters in the city. The theater also has a splendid cooling system for the hot summer weather.

TO MEET FRIDAY

At the Mahoning school on Friday evening at 7:30 members of the Boy Scout Troop No. 4 will meet.

Initiation of all new members will take place at the meeting.

The Beaver Patrol Troop, during the session, will put on a first aid demonstration.

ARE YOUR Bowels Stubborn?
Then try kindness! First of all you can't expect them to act unless you give them a chance. Most people make sure to get 3 meals a day. But they never think of giving their bowels a regular time (daily) for evacuation.
If you've neglected YOUR bowels until they finally became stubborn and unwilling to act, ask your druggist for ADLERIKA. It is an effective blend of 5 carminatives and 3 laxatives giving DOUBLE action. Gas is expelled and bowel action follows surprisingly fast. After that, make up your mind to give your bowels 5 or 10 minutes' time at regular hour, daily. Your druggist has ADLERIKA.

(International News Service)

MT. HOLLY, N. J., Jan. 15—John J. McHugh, Landsdowne policeman today was free of all charges in connection with the fatal shooting of Private Theodore Mazur, of Passaic, escaped Fort Dix Guardhouse prisoner.

The jury deliberated one hour and 45 minutes after McHugh told them he fired in the direction of Mazur and two companions "just to scare them." He explained he was vacationing at Browns Mills, where the shooting occurred, and did not enter the hunt for the escaped prisoners until specifically requested to do so by two military police officers.

Doctors, dentists, music teachers, lawyers, architects actors, insurance agents, hotel and boarding-house keepers are all entitled to receive the new directory. The reason is that the post office will save some 8,000 tons of paper by the restrictions.

U. S. Asiatic Fleet Intact

Entire Fleet Removed From Philippine Area Ready For Service

ADMIRAL HART'S FEAT IS PRAISED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Naval and military circles today labelled as "nothing short of miraculous" Admiral Thomas C. Hart's feat of evacuating America's Asiatic fleet from the Philippine area in the face of Japanese air and naval superiority and withdrawing it intact to points from which he could strike back at the enemy at the proper time.

The navy confirmed reports that Hart himself had arrived safely at an undisclosed point in the Netherlands East Indies, and that American naval units were cooperating with Dutch forces in the south Pacific.

While the Navy officially declined to comment on reports received in Washington that the Asiatic fleet was intact somewhere in the south Pacific, spokesmen did not deny the news was true.

Fleet Undamaged

News received at the nation's capital disclosed that Admiral Hart, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet and head of the Allied naval forces in the South Pacific, eluded the Japanese blitz attack in the Philippine area with virtually no damage to cruisers, destroyers, submarines and auxiliary vessels.

The only official comment about withdrawal of naval units was contained in a recent communique that the United States naval base at Cavite, in the Philippines was evacuated before the Japs entered Manila.

"All ships and naval personnel were removed from the Manila-Cavite area prior to enemy occupation," the navy said at the time.

No mention was made then of Hart's Asiatic fleet, but it was presumed that the various units were harrassing Japanese as they headed for more tenable bases.

Hart's comparatively small but hard hitting fleet has taken a heavy toll of Jap naval forces, Washington sources said.

Except for the loss early in the war of the small American seaplane tender Penguin and slight damage to several vessels, the Asiatic fleet is known to be intact.

Quarter Million Dollar Fire Loss As Pier Burns

Grease And Oil Lost In Fire Near Wilmington, Del., During Night

(International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 15—A quarter of a million dollars worth of grease and oil vital to the National Defense program were destroyed, it was estimated today, in the fire which swept over the Texas company's 1100-foot terminal pier at nearby Claymore, gutting half of it and causing injuries to 14 persons.

F. B. I. agents and company officials said there was no evidence of sabotage. The fire was believed to have started from a spark of a welder's torch while he was engaged in laying a new pipeline under the corrugated warehouse at the end of the pier.

The warehouse, half of the pier and about 150,000 pounds of grease in 1500 metal drums were destroyed as two explosions accompanied the fierce blaze which, fanned by a high wind, for a time threatened the company's 265 2000-barrel gasoline storage tanks on shore.

Four persons were hospitalized by burns and injuries and 10 others were treated at the scene.

Plan Memorial Service Sunday

Both interest and attendance are increasing nightly at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle where a special all-out evangelistic program is now in progress. The tabernacle is located on Vogan street on the east side of the city.

All week night services begin at 7:30 o'clock promptly, with Sunday services at 1 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Rev. William "Billy" Wiggins of Philadelphia is the evangelist. Mr. Wiggins was converted at Billy Sunday's famous meetings in Philadelphia.

A Billy Sunday memorial service is to be held in the tabernacle Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A special section of the tabernacle will be reserved for persons converted under Mr. Sunday's ministry.

Expedition Comes Upon Many Rare Types Of Fossils

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Fantastic looking creatures—giant squirrels, fast running rhinoceroses, and the fragmentary remains of a stylinodont—were among the fossils uncovered this summer in southern Wyoming by Dr. C. Lewis Gazin, paleontologist of Smithsonian Institution.

Dr. Gazin carried on his excavations in the Bridger Easin, classic hunting ground for mammal fossils from the Middle Eocene period in geological history. During this period many extant animals were just beginning to differentiate into their present day forms.

The stylinodont according to the Smithsonian Institution closely resembles th sloth, is not traceable to any present day form, and is therefore believed to have become extinct during this period. The remains, which showed signs of having been previously excavated by amateurs or "pot hunters," represented one of the summer's most interesting finds, although the skeleton itself is considered valueless.

Grotesque Squirrel Fossil

Another interesting discovery by Dr. Gazin revealed the remains of a paramys, or giant squirrel, with a skull three to four inches long and a body the approximate size of a woodchuck. The paramys, although not a direct ancestor of the present day squirrel, belongs to the same general line of development. It became extinct in the Oligocene period, and smaller relatives perpetuated the race.

Hyrachyus, a member of the general rhinoceros family with limbs adapted for swift running, was another of Dr. Gazin's finds. Also uncovered were skulls and bones of the Palaeosyops, one of the great and long extinct members of the titanothere family, which included the giants of prehistoric time.

Despondent Man Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—Despondency over a wound suffered in a hunting accident last April today was blamed for the apparent suicide of C. Bradley Fraley, Chestnut Hill socialite.

Police said Fraley, bedridden since accidentally shooting himself in the leg, fired a single shot into his head in the temporary adsence of his nurse. No members of the family were in the house at the time, authorities said.

A note, addressed to Mrs. Fraley, stated:

"In case of my death you will find a check in the back of my checkbook."

AROUND CITY HALL

State Street curve elimination work is under way. The ditch for the Jackson avenue storm sewer is being dug. Wrokmen will soon begin dredging the north embankment of the Big Run between South Jefferson and Moravia street, according to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop.

Although city streets have been slippery during the past several nights and days no accidents with serious resultant injuries have been made known to city police officials.

A tire thief will be regarded in the eyes of the public as a saboteur and the public will have no lenient interest in one if caught. So far no tires have been stolen, since Mayor Charles B. Mayne issued the "change tires only beneath street lights" order.

No request has been made this year for setting aside streets for coasting purposes. Only one snow so far has been sufficiently heavy for sledding.

One of the reasons for the propagation of wild life in Gaston park is because Owen Fox, the city forester, feeds birds and animals regularly. The wild life also has been protected during hunting seasons.

Workmen are renovating the desk used by Mayor Charles B. Mayne in police court.

The city's supply of ashes, for street use is good and there isn't much chance of a shortage this winter.

According to a study of the police docket many motorists have been violating the parking meters. Approximately 200 have already paid a $1.00 fine for the offense this month. Some who had valid reasons for exoneration were discharged in traffic court.

City and county authorities are preparing to take over some land owned by the Lehigh Portland Cement Company. Some is within the city and some outside the city. The land will be given in lieu of taxes. Some of the water-filled hollows will be stocked with fish.

Persons who receive tags for violating parking meters must either appear in traffic court or pay the stated fine to a police sergeant. The latter has no authority to exonerate anyone. Further, persons other than the persons who receive the tags, cannot gain exoneration for the latter.

Practically the entire day force of uniformed policemen is confined mostly to traffic duty, which includes meter watchmen.

No assistant to the city assessor has yet been appointed according to Finance Director James L. Fink. With the triennial assessment to be made it will be necessary to name an assistant within the next month or two. The chief assessor is John Cartwright.

SCRAP BRASS COLLECTION

In the office of County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer there is a box at the dog license window, marked "old license tags." The idea is to bring back your old tags and deposit them in the box and they will be turned over to the government.

Thus far there are about 100 old tags in the box and in addition a collection of empty .22 cartridge cases, a section of brass tubing, an old electric light socket, and one red cross button. Thus far there are not pants buttons or telephone slugs.

FINISH THIS WEEK

The indications today are that the present term of civil court will finish this week. Several cases have been continued and several others have been settled.

CASES ON TRIAL

The case of David Rosenblum, Oscar Ben Rosenblum, Lillian Rosenblum, Edith Rosenfield, Samuel Epstein, guardian of Shirley J. Rosenblum, versus Querino Casimiri, trading as the Victoria Baking company, finished Wednesday. The case revolved around the old processing tax on flour. On bills of merchandise sold the defendant the processing tax was $180. This was never paid and later the law was repealed. The defendant claimed he didn't owe it and the plaintiffs claimed they had paid it to the government.

In court room number one Tuesday afternoon three cases against John Saesan and James A. McCormick went to trial. Two of the cases are by Agnes McHenry, administratrix of the estate of Horace McHenry and the other is by Harry E. Adkins. The cases arise out of an accident on Moravia street some months ago in which two men were killed and one injured.

In court room number two the case of Anthony Joseph versus Adrian J. McKeavy was called for trial Tuesday afternoon. The case is one in which the plaintiff claims damages for damage to his car by the defendant.

LARGE GAS TAX REFUND

The largest gasoline refund for any one year has been received by County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer, $41,129.84. The check has been received from the department of revenue and is the largest refund the county has ever received for one year. It will likely be the largest for some time for the probabilities are that the next check will be for considerably less.

VERDICT RECEIVED

In the case of the Max Ludwig Co., against Lee Speer, to recover $1,500 alleged due on a loan, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant. The defendant had claimed setoffs which would amount to $750 but these are nisallowed.

DIVORCE DECREES

In an opinion handed down on Wednesday by Judge John G. Lamoree, the refusal of Attorney Harvey E. Martin, master in the divorce case of Elizabeth Bekoski against Frank Bekoski is upheld. The divorce is refused.

Anna Masters, also known as Anna Mastrantuno, is granted a divorce from Thomas J. Masters, known as Thomas J. Mastrantuno. The decree was signed by Judge John G. Lamoree.

GRANT CUSTODY

In an opinion by Judge W. Walter Braham the custody of Fern Louise Turk is granted to a sister, Mary Cameron.

HAS FINGER CUT

Frank Langley, aged 41 years, of 620 Raymond street, suffered a laceration of the tip of the index finger of his left hand, while cutting a block of wood on a saw at the plant of the Elliott Brothers Steel Company, Wednesday evening. He was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 9:05 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Amazing Cough Relief, Mixed In Your Kitchen

No Trouble. No Cooking. Saves Big Dollars.

Yes, ma'am, right in your own kitchen, you can easily mix a cough medicine that is a wonder for quick results, and gives you about four times as much for your money. And it's no trouble—a child could do it.

You'll need a syrup. Make it by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed.

Now get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, and pour it into a pint bottle. Then add your syrup. There you have a full pint of really remarkable medicine for coughs due to colds. It lasts a family a long time, and tastes fine—children love it.

And does it do the work! You'll say it beats anything you ever tried. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, and lets you rest at night.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Compromise On Tuition Claim

New Castle School Board Makes Agreement With S. New Castle Boro

OTHER MATTERS BEFORE BOARD

At the request of the school district of South New Castle Boro, a tuition claim of the New Castle school board was compromised on Wednesday night at the meeting of the board and the face of the judgment, $1,542.45, accepted in full.

The judgment was secured by the New Castle school board in 1938 for tuition of South New Castle Boro students attending the New Castle Senior High school. Legally, interest at 6 per cent could be charged on the judgment, but the board felt that if the boro could pay the face of the judgment, the interest would be forgotten.

Postmaster William R. Hanna suggested to the school board, by letter, that defense savings stamps should be sold in the schools and that the board might set up a revolving fund of $500 to finance the plan. Superintendent C. C. Green told the board that the schools were already selling defense stamps.

Routine Affairs

Secretary John B. Bechtol told the board that paper supplies would probably be rationed very shortly and that it would be difficult to get a year-lot bid with guaranteed deliveries. He suggested that the board arrange for month-to-month deliveries instead of getting a bid for the entire year. This will be done.

Mr. Bechtol also suggested the possibility of getting paper balers and baling the used paper in the schools. In this matter Leslie Brindle said that the kind of paper used in the schools was not the type which would bring much in return and that the cost of baling and shipping would probably equal what the board could get for it. A committee will be named to investigate the situation.

Permission was granted to the Lawrence County Parent-Teachers' association for the use of a room in the senior high school on Monday night of each week for a rehearsal room for a chorus which is to be formed.

Only One Type Of Bicycle To Be Produced

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The bicycle industry will manufacture one standard model known as the "Victory" in 1942 in place of ten previous types to conserve vital materials for defense, it was revealed today.

The industry will produce only 750,000 models in 1942, compared with 1,827,000 last year, and there will be only one type for both men and women, none for children.

Price Control Administrator Leon Henderson tried out the new "Victory" bicycle today by riding one near his offices in downtown Washington.

He carried Betty Barrett of York, Neb., an O. P. M. stenographer on the handlebars, and also rode "no-hands."

The new standard bicycle will be stripped of all non essentials, and will not contain any copper. Reduction of non-essentials is expected to save an estimated 30,000 tons of steel a year.

Tires on the new bicycles will be much smaller than on previous models, and will be made mostly of reclaimed rubber.

BIRTHDAYS of FAMOUS AMERICANS

He went to France as a brigade commander and later took command of the 1st Division with the rank of major-general. The same rank in the regular army was conferred on him in November, 1918.

1870—Ulysses Prentiss Hedrick, horticulturist, at Independence, Ia. In 1905 he became horticulturist at the New York agricultural experiment station, Geneva, where he conducted extensive researches in fruit growing, on which he became an American authority. Enemy Aliens Must Register

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—President Roosevelt, by proclamation, today ordered the registration of all enemy aliens within the continental United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Such registration will be handled by the attorney general at such times and places as he may decide. The president directed, however, that identification certificates be issued to all Germans, Japanese and Italians as speedily as possible.

The registration order follows upon the presidential action taken the day the United States entered the war, in prescribing a long list of restrictions for such alien enemies.

All aliens in the United States were registered and fingerprinted last year. There were about 5,000,000,000 of them, and Attorney General Francis Biddle has since estimated that about 1,100,000 were citizens of the Axis powers. It was presumed that regulations for the new registration of enemy aliens would be more stringent and possibly provide for photographing as well as registration and fingerprinting.

Hints On Etiquette

A working girl must have a foundation spirit of fair play to have good business manners. Her attitude toward her employer and fellow workers must be "square".

Horses Are Scarce In Pennsylvania

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—The horse is coming into his own again—but apparently a quarter century too late to benefit Pennsylvania, once an important horse-raising state.

With horses in great demand, and prices booming, due to war curbs on automobiles and rubber tires, the department of agriculture sadly disclosed today that the horse industry in Pennsylvania "ain't what she used to be". There just aren't enough to go around.

"Farmers in this state are not in position to take advantage of the new situation," said E. L. Gasteiger, chief department statistician. "They don't even raise enough horses to take care of their own demands."

Consequently, instead of being the windfall it might have been in 1914, the first year of World War I, the new demand for horses may prove costly for farmers in this state, because they are forced to import from other states approximately 20,000 horses a year.

Gasteiger estimated that not more than 6,000 horses a year are produced now in Pennsylvania. For these the sale value will be greatly increased, but for farmers who must buy replacements the war will work a hardship.

There was a time, however, when Pennsylvania's farmers could boast a $76,000,000 horse industry. That was in 1914. But since then, said Gasteiger, the idustry has declined 60 per cent until today the valuation of horses on farms is placed at approximately $30,000,000.

Even more indicative of the decline during the past quarter century was the agriculture department's disclosure that the number of horses in Pennsylvania has fallen since 1914 from 545,000 to 270,000. Today Pennsylvania is only 16th in the nation in the number of horses.

The greatest demand today, still other sources disclosed, is for truck horses and their price has increased 100 per cent. A horse which could be bought for $100 before the war today brings a price of $200.

The price of mules has risen also. Good Missouri mules have gone up in price from about $175 to $235 and other mules that once cost $50 now cost twice as much.

But the production of mules is on the decline also in Pennsylvania, said Gasteiger. After reaching a peak of 55,000 in 1920 the number fell to 48,000 in 1940.

Kiwanians Plan For Anniversary

Special Program For New Wilmington Club—Other News Of Town

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 15.—The 27th anniversary of Kiwanis International will be observed by New Wilmington's Kiwanis club during the week of January 18-24, according to Russell Sewall, president.

In charge of the program will be the club's committee on Kiwanis education, comprising Roy Cummings and Leon Marshall.

At the last meeting of the organization, President Sewall presented the first Defense Bond bought by the Kiwanians to the treasurer, Russell Wilson. Money is now being raised for the second bond. Plans for a mass meeting concerning the Kiwanis defense prgoram were also made.

Earl Black, a member of County Tire Rationing Board No. 2, discussed the tire situation at the meeting. Special music was provided by William Earl, of New Castle.

Russell Minner and Roy Cummings have been appointed to audit the club's books for the year 1941.

METHODIST BROTHERHOOD

Rev. W. A. Thornton, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church, New Castle, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the local Methodist Brotherhood, held recently. Rev. Thornton gave an interesting historical and geographical discussion of England.

At the meeting, a financial report with respect to the church's organ fund was given by the secretary. The drive to raise funds is to be completed by the February meeting, at which time a victory dinner will be held. Chairmen of the five teams which have been conducting the drive are: Jacob Bumgardner, Harold Black, Harold Burns, Joseph Eckles and Walter Shaffer.

ROTARY MEETING

New Wilmington's Rotarians, at their last regular meeting, were addressed by Dr. A. T. Cordray, head of the dramatics department of Westminster College, who spoke on "The Effects of the War on the Theatre."

In place of the next meeting of the club, the members and their wives will attend the spaghetti supper being given by members of Target, college senior women's honorary society.

Seeking Cause Of Heart Failure

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—An "isolated" heart—housed in a water-heated glass bowl and pumping blood through glass arteries and rubber veins—may provide scientists with some definite clues to the cause of heart failure.

That is the primary purpose of the "heart oxygenator," developed at the University of Minnesota by Dr. Victor Lorber, physiology instructor, who hopes the unit will "determine the chemical changes and causes of heart failure."

Dr. Lorber uses a living heart taken from an animal, and places it in a glass bowl, submerged in water heated to body temperature. Connected to the bowl are rubber veins and glass arteries and two cylinders which serve as lungs. The blood passes through the system in much the same way the human circulatory system functions and the "oxygenator" provides scientists with a "closeup" of the heart in operation.

To keep the heart beating for several hours, Dr. Lorber's unit employs a cylinder which takes out carbon dioxide and allows the heart to absorb oxygen.

TREE LEAVES ENJOY BOOM
(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal.—Interruption of imports from the Mediterranean region has boosted the price of leaves from the California laurel—or bay tree—to between 20 and 25 cents per pound in the past few months, according to Ralph Waltz, assistant forestry specialist in the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. The bay leaves, said Waltz, are sold dried and must reach this state in the shade so that they will retain their green color.

Gives Procedure For Securing Birth Certificate

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—The Chamber of Commerce has been deluged with calls the past few days relative to the procedure of obtaining a birth certificate. In order to inform the public in general the chamber issued the following procedure that must be follows:

If you were born from 1906 to date forward your full name, address, place of birth, date of birth, full name of parents and mother's maiden name to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Harrisburg, Pa. In your letter to Harrisburg be sure ot enclose a dollar money order and state that you are requesting a birth certificate. If they have made a search of records in Harrisburg and fail to find anything on your name, they will return 50 cents of the $1 with instructions to get in touch with Mr. Andrews, Department of Health building, second floor, 115 North Jefferson street, in New Castle, on any day except Saturday from 1:30 to 5 p. m.

If you were born before 1906, the court house in the county in which you were born may have the record if sent in by the doctor. If after searching records, no record is found in the court house, then you must proceed for applying for a delayed birth certificate. The delayed birth certificate and if you were born before 1903 you must see Mr. Andrews who will assist you in obtaining a certificate.

Those having to obtain birth certificates for local mills are urged to follow this procedure.

Nelson Now War Production Czar

President Roosevelt has placed American war production under the supreme authority of Donald Marr Nelson (right) who will head a war production board on which Vice President Henry Wallace (left), now chairman of the economic defense board, will serve as a member. Nelson, until his new appointment, was executive director of the supply priorities and allocations board. Placing war production under one authority incisively answers the criticism which was mounting in congress over the de-centralized offices, say political observers.

Aims To Far Exceed Quota In Red Cross War Relief Drive

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—The Red Cross war fund campaign is gaining momentum daily as citizens who have been missed through some reason or other are responding to letters sent out by Red Cross officials.

Some persons have received letters who have already given to the fund and John Powell, chairman of the drive, wishes to inform those who received such letters to not be offended as a change of address from one ward to another or a duplicate filing card has been the mistake.

In the "clean up" of the campaign, ward leaders are trying to raise another $1500 in order to assure Ellwood City being the community in the county to raise more over its quota than any other city. Those who have not given and wish to do so may send their checks or bring their donations to their ward leaders who are as follows:

First ward—Mrs. Elmer Greenham and Mrs. John Hough.

Second ward—Rev. Vincent Galiano and Angelo Squicquero.

PET FOX TRACKED DOWN

(International News Service)

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y.—The little pet fox said "Yanh-yanh" and ran away, three years ago, from his owner, Miss Margaret Wager, wearing a leather name collar belonging to one of her cats. And he never came back, because the hunter's dog caught up with him on French mountain, on the east side of Lake George a few days ago, and so did the hunter, Carl Hammond of Glens Falls.

URGES IMMEDIATE REPEAL OF NEW AUTO USE TAX

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—The Keystone Automobile Club today urged that the new $5 automobile use tax be repealed immediately as a "throwback to odious medieval forms of taxation such as window and chimney levies."

"This is precisely the kind of a tax which in the past has been carefully avoided in this country," declared the Club, "for it not only is discriminatory and inherently wrong but is, in addition, susceptible of the most gross perversion and abuse."

Asserting its objections are based on principle and precedant, Keystone asked: "Does the public believe that if this automobile use tax is accepted without protest, the present five dollar Federal levy will be the end of the matter?"

"A continuing and ever greater need for revenues unquestionably will result in a demand for an increase in the Federal use tax," the Club said. "Then states, counties, and municipalities, charmed by the ease of collection, will press for their own special automotive tax uses."

STUDY FOR RELAXATION.

(International News Service)

DURHAM, N. H., Jan. 13.—Three university of New Hampshire students go to classes for relaxation. The trio, enrolled in the welding course conducted as part of the defense program, work eight and ten hour shifts after their six hours in classes. Roger Bigg and Walter Faist of Barrington, N. H., work as spinners in a mill and Irvin Foss of Rochester, N. H., puts in 10 hours at a restaurant. But, Gibbs said, "our welding study is so different from our regular work that it relaxes us."

NO MORE JAPAN AVENUE

(International News Service)

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—The old adage "What's in a Name?" may mean nothing in ordinary times, but in days like these, well . . . Montgomery thinks so. The City Commission recently was besieged with a petition signed by a group of aroused residents demanding the name of the street on which they lived be stricken from the city's records. The commission agreed unanimously. Japan avenue was the name of the street.

Science Has New Weapon To Cope With Pneumonia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — Hospitals in the Philadelphia area confidently await the coming of winter and its expected host of pneumonia cases because they are certain they have the perfect weakon to repel one of the nation's worst killers.

That weapon is sulfadiazine—newest miracle of science and the most potent answer yet devised to the murderous streptococcus and pneumococcus. The drug is a combination of sulfanilamide and vitamin B-1.

Actual tests in Philadelphia hospitals have proved the efficacy of sulfadiazine. Dr. Harrison F. Flippin, of the Philadelphia General Hospital, had these glowing words to describe the drug:

"I believe sulfadiazine will replace the other sulfanilamide compounds because of its more widespread therapeutic effectiveness, its lower degree of toxicity and its simpler pharmacological control."

Successful In Most Cases

Of 300 pneumonia cases treated at Philadelphia General by Dr. Flippin and his associates, only 10 per cent died. That's the same percentage recorded for the other "sulfa" compounds, but it doesn't tell the whole story.

Use of sulfadiazine pushed the morality down to two per cent when the patient was treated within three days of the attack. It caused nausea in only four per cent of cases compared with 20 per cent for sulfathiazole and 60 per cent for sulfapyridine.

The new drug rarely causes kidney irritation, chief fault of its predecessors. And finally, it stayed in the bloodstream longer, requiring additional doses to be administered only every six hours when given by mouth and 12 hours when injected.

The character of Nazi leaders explains Germany. Most of them have criminal records, and even the Minister of Justice is an ex-convict.

John The Baptist And Jesus

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

John the Baptist preaching

"Thou art My Beloved Son: in Thee I am well pleased."—Luke 3:22

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for January 18 is Matt. 3:1-17; Mark 1:1-11; Luke 3:1-22, the Golden Text being Luke 3:22, 'Thou art My Beloved Son, in Thee I am well pleased.")

WE HAVE learned all we can know of the childhood of Jesus. We know nothing of the youth of John the Baptist, those two who were second cousins, you remember, because their mothers were first cousins, and whose lives, so far as we know, never crossed until they were grown men.

Today we learn when and how they met and what they did. John the Baptist was a remarkable man, a real prophet, who preferred the wilderness for a home and very simple food—locusts and wild honey, we are told. Locusts are part of the poor man's food in the East today. They are not at all like our locusts. His dress was equally simple, a camel's hair garment, the cloth being coarse and woven of camel's hair—still worn in the east. A girdle was almost an indispensable part of the common dress of the day. It was needed to bind the long, loose robe.

John must have been a striking figure. He made no pretensions of being other than he was—in Isaiah's words:

"The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the lord,
Make His paths straight.
Every valley shall be filled,
And every mountain and hill shall be brought low;
And the crooked shall be made straight.
And the rough ways smooth,
And all flesh shall see the salvation of God."

Multitudes of people came from their homes to hear this striking man with the interesting message. It may have been that these crowds sensed that something unusual was about to take place. They knew John made them feel they were living sinfully and should do something about it. Many have thought that if they could get him to baptize them they would be saved. John dispelled that idea, however. He knew their guilt, that they were dishonest, grafters, cruel, selfish, and he told them plainly that baptism was not enough. It was but a symbol of a change which should make them live good lives.

"What shall we do?"* they asked him. To the publicans, noted grafters, he said that they should collect no more than was due them. To the soldiers, that they should use no violence, should not accuse anyone falsely, and be content with their wages.

He was not Christ, he told them, who were wondering, "One mightier than I cometh, the latchet (strings) of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose; He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire."

All three of the disciples—Matthew, Mark and Luke—tell of Jesus coming to John to be baptized. Matthew says John forbade the Lord at first, saying he had much more need to be baptized of Jesus. But Jesus insisted, so there in the river Jordan, Jesus was baptized by John, and immediately after coming from the water. He saw the heavens open and the Spirit of God descended like a dove, lighting upon Him. And lo, a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art My Beloved Son; in Thee I am well pleased."

St. Luke says that Jesus was 30 years of age at this time. He also tells us that Herod, the tetrarch or ruler, having been reproved by John for his evil doings, and especially for taking his brother Phillip's wife, Herodias, shut John in prison. He never left this prison, you remember, but was beheaded through a conspiracy by Herodias and her daughter, Salome.

John fulfilled the prophecy of the angel who appeared to his father, Zacharias, "Many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God." He also fulfilled the prophecy of Zacharias himself, who, when his dumbness passed, said: "And thou, child shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways."

FHA Priority Help Promised Builders

All Work Under Construction October 9 Gets Rating, Annoucned

New Castle builders today were extended a helpful hand from the Federal Housing Administration's priority division at Pittsburgh for the completion of all non-defense housing which was under construction as of October 9 in a warning from Oakley W. Heselbarth, district FHA director.

Priority ratings to enable these builders to secure materials for the completion of non-defense projects will be granted by OPM up to January 31, Heselbarth said. After that date the government will give no assistance in construction outside the defense class.

"This is the last opportunity for contractors to get preference ratings for materials on private homes costing more than $6,000.00, or projects renting for more than $50 per unit," he said.

"The extension of the deadline to January 31 was to insure that there will be no half-completed housing units in the district through any lack of assistance by the federal agencies. Ample warning was given and the time limit was purposely extended to mop up this type of work.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Four Teachers In Schools Resign

Board Receives Report At Meeting Wednesday Night —Other Board Matters

Four resignations of teachers were received Wednesday night by the New Castle school board. The four were Ethel Uber Dunn, of North Street; Sylvia Martin Hazen, of North Street; Jane Hawkins, of Washington junior high school, and Mary Martin Reilley, of Washington junior high school. No reasons were assigned for the resignations.

A report of the national defense training classes in machine operation shows that 524 are enrolled to date in the course. 380 have completed the course and are now employed, the present enrollment is 35. 85 have dropped the course and 24 have completed the course but there is no record of employment.

Current bills in the amount of $6997.31 were approved for payment.

Cafeteria reports showed a net gain of $102.99 for the Washington junior high school cafeteria in December and a net gain of $56.69 for the same month for the Franklin cafeteria.

Miss Ruth Krohn asked for, and received, permission to take a half year sabbatical leave for the purpose of further study.

Goebbels Presents Bizarre Report

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Apparently attempting to prove the pen mightier than the torpedo, Joe Goebbels has "sunk" so many British ships that the British fleet now is a minus quantity.

This bizarre bit of Axis arithmetic came to light today in a British radio broadcast heard by CBS.

Compiling the German and Italian claims of naval successes made since the war began, the BBC found it was supposed to have, according to the Axis records:

Minus 29 capital ships; minus 13 aircraft carriers; minus 96 cruisers and minus 37 submarines.

Besides these minus quantities, the British navy is left with two destroyers afloat, according to Axis claims.

This "phantom" navy nevertheless accounted for 5,225,000 tons of German shipping up to the end of 1941, the BBC said.

Delinquent Tax Collector Named For City Schools

R. H. Lohman was elected by the New Castle school board Wednesday night for another term of one year as delinquent tax collector for the city. Mr. Lohman has been engaged in collecting the delinquent per capita taxes of $5 per person for the years 1931 to 1935 inclusive.

Secretary of the Board John B. Bechtol was asked how much money had been turned back to the school board in the past year through the collection of these delinquent taxes and he replied "a little over $12,000." Mr. Bechtol then explained that Mr. Lohman had three wards ready for distraint notices and in about three weeks would have the entire eight wards completed, ready for notice. Lohman's idea is to serve the notices for the entire city at once.

Mr. Lohman was then re-elected with the stipulation that a bond of $10,000 must be provided.

Bessemer-Union Show Class Plus In '20 Cage Race

Friendly Rivals Feature Speed; Adroitness And Experience Thus Far

FOUR GAMES LISTED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Bessemer and Union Township high, Section 20 co-leaders, are seriously threatening to make the local class B race a two-way affair.

Ever since the bounce marathon started Tuesday, January 6, the friendly rivals have stolen the show, winning three games each.

Early returns indicate that Bessemer and Union feature speed, adroitness and experience, three necessary elements on any winning ball club. How can a team lose with three such standout qualities? That's what rival coaches are asking each other.

John Grubisa seems to be the key to Bessemer's success. His offensive power, plus a cool and uncanny defensive game have highlighted Bessemer's showings thus far. Tasota has uncorked a series of flashy performances, too.

Union Clicking

After a somewhat dismal barnstorming tour, Union Township high suddenly has hits its stride. Coach Pat Patterson, as cagey a mentor as you'll find in the class B division, has whipped together an exceptionally smooth quintet which has spanked East Brook, Shenango and Princeton. In Annarella and Reynolds, the Scotland Laners really have something to crow about.

The sectional rivals hoop the hoops again tomorrow night. The books show four clashes that should produce the kind of action that pleases freight payers.

Bessemer plays host to Princeton and should add its fourth triumph when the final whistle sounds. Union Township faces a stiffer task, however, engaging Mt. Jackson high. Since the battle is carded for Union floor, the Scotland Lane five has a decided edge.

Wampum At Shenango

One of the major clashes pairs Shenango and Wampum high on the Shenango floor. Both aggregations, still predominant figures in the race despite the fact that their escutcheons have been dinged, will put on an interesting court show. The foes enter the tiff with .500 marks.

New Wilmington high, which has dropped two one-point loop decisions, hopes to have better luck in its clash with East Brook on the Brookers' hardwood

Both aggregations, losers of "heart-breakers", will be out to konk Mr. Jinx right between the eyes.

Augmenting an unusually appealing program, New Castle high makes its home debut as a Section III member at George Washington junior high, tangling with a well poised Beaver Falls edition.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Some Pittsburgh amateur fighters lost the road to this city last night causing a late start of punch pyrotechnics . . . Penn State won a grappling meet from Syracuse, 27 to 5, at State College . . . Eddie Lukon, baseball outfielder acquired recently by Cincinnati, will register for the draft . . . . Joe Chamaco, Mexican, won his third match in the three-cushion billiards tourney at Chicago, last night. The loser was Otto Reiselt, Philadelphia. The trick was turned in 35 innings. . . Indications are the Lawrence County and City Baseball leagues may lose some of their best players through the coming draft. Bessemer already has lost quite a few. Managers of the 1941 Lawrence and City League teams are requested to send in the names of those already in the service.

Leo Mogus Worries Westminster Quint

Youngstown College Scoring Whiz Is Averaging 21 Points Per Contest

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 15.—A thick cloud of seriousness shrouds Westminster college gymnasium as Coach Grover Washabaugh whips his Titans into shape for Youngstown college Saturday night at New Wilmington.

Despite the fact that the Lawrence countians added the Penguins to their winning streak last Monday, 61-55, the Titans have a special reason for being so concerned about their eighth skirmish of the season.

The name is Leo Mogus.

Has 21-Point Average

The 6 foot 4 Youngstowner was as troublesome as a new pair of shoes. He scored so often that every time he grabbed the ball and let go, the scorers put another "x" after his name. All told, Mogus rattled in 28 points to maintain his 21 points per tussle average.

Coach Washabaugh and his popular athletes are endeavoring to find a way to halt the scoring whiz from across the state line.

Addressing his proteges following the game, a nervous Coach Washabaugh rubbed his forehead and said:

"If we don't stop him Saturday, we're done. We were forced to go all'-out' to win after spotting Youngstown 10 points. It's tough to overcome a big lead like that every game."

Westminster's blue and white shirted smoothies will be in top shape for the fracas following a much needed rest.

The Titans' starting lineup will probably find Lee Fox and "Buz" Ridl, who have regained their '41 form, at forwards; Stan Wasik at center, with Dale Dunmire and Joe Spak in the guard slots. Charles Goldblum, the flashy 6 foot 3 freshman, will likely see action during the fray. His play has highlighted the Titans' play recently.

The battle will start at 8:15 o'clock.

New Castle Rifle Club Shoot Tonight

The New Castle Rifle club will have an important practice shoot tonight at the Cathedral range at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced by George Finley, president of the club, today.

On Friday night the New Castle club will start its quest of the second-half Penn-Ohio league championship by shooting against Mahoning club at the Youngstown range. The members will leave from the corner of Grant and Jefferson at 7 o'clock for Youngstown.

Niles won the first-half title with 11 wins and 3 defeats, while New Castle, with 10 wins and 4 defeats, wound up in second place. The locals, according to Mr. Finley, are going to make a very determined bid for the second-half crown, and then defeat Niles in the season's windup shoot-off between the first and second-half winners.

New Castle lost to New Brighton in an Interstate league match at New Brighton on Monday night, by the margin of six points, the New Castle team having a better off-hand record, but both teams finished the match with 1415-1415 points apiece.

Church League Games Friday

Three more games are listed for the New Castle Church basketball league for Friday night at the "Y" floor. In the first game the Baptists will tangle with the St. Vitus team. This game will go on at 7:45 o'clock.

In the second game the First Presbyterians tangle with the St. Marys lads, and in the third game the St. George Greeks will attempt to start a winning streak by dumping the Mahoning Methodists.

Baxter And Les Win Arena Bouts

Baxter Wins TKO Over Mills, Les Beats Lester In Hard Fight

BABY KAYOES BROOKS; WARGO DEFEATED

Russell Baxter captured a TKO over Freddie Mills of Pittsburgh in the third round in The Arena last night. Mills was outclassed and after being softened for a "kayo" Referee Sam Leyshock stepped between the two 155 pounders and terminated hostilities when it appeared that Mills could not defend himself and might be knocked out. His action prevented Mills from assimilating needless punishment.

In the Les Leasure vs Freddy Lester, Pittsburgh, middleweight fight the New Castle fighter captured the decision after a fast, vicious fight. It was one of the best 160-pound fights yet seen in The Arena. Lester, a much better fighter than Mills, received the vote of Referee Sam Leyshock but the judges extended the nod to Leasure. Mills was supposed to box Leasure but was too light so Baxter drew Mills and Leasure drew Lester.

Not all the fans agreed with the decision given to Rollin Horne, Niles, over Bill Shelton, McKees Rocks, at 135 pounds. Referee Sam Leyshock voted for the colored fighter and the judges declared themselves in favor of Rollin, one stating later that Shelton weakened as the fight progressed and he believed the Niles lad entitled to the award. One upset was the victory of Frank Cody, Niles, over the highly reputed Nick Wargo, Pittsburgh, at 135 pounds. It was a very good fight.

Reale Wins Decision

All of the bouts were scheduled for three rounds. Baby Leasure, city, who lost recently to Cordy, flashed a knockout to atone for the defeat. He knocked out Henry Brooks, McKees Rocks, at 133 pounds in the second round. Billy Reale, Castlewood, tossed a lot of swings and George Dawkins, Pittsburgh, unloosed a few left hooks for the wind but mostly tried to evade punishment hence the decision went to Reale. Both weighed 165 pounds.

Other results:

118-pound class: Billy Kennedy, Youngstown, won a split decision over Billy Carney of Niles in a good bout.

112-pound class: Dick Roache of Niles won in three fast rounds over Foo Yee, Youngstown.

The referee was Sam Leyshock; judges, Harry Flinner and John Young; timers, Humbert Fazzone and Peter Capitola; announcer, Charles Walther; commissioners, P. A. C., William Talbot, Rochester; A. A. U., Ed Fritz, Sr., this city.

About 700 fans witnessed the show.

Westminster Swimmers Set Three Pool Records; Capture Fourth Victory

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 15.—Westminster college's swimming team remained on the undefeated list following an impressive 51-24 victory over Washington & Jefferson college Wednesday in the Titan tank.

HOW THEY DID IT

Members of the Yankees say that Joe DiMaggio might have batted safely in 73 consecutive games instead of 56 but for the inspired fielding of the opposing fielders. Remember, it was Ken Keltner with two sensational stops who halted Joe's streak at 56.

Ghost Basketball Has Fans Talking

Two Stellar Attractions Carded For Arena Floor Next Wednesday Night

There will be a complete "blackout" at the Arena next Wednesday evening, January 21, but it won't be because of Jap or Axis bombing planes, but a "ghost basketball" game. The Arena will be blacker than the eight-ball when the two teams take the floor for the first game of its kind ever staged here.

The identity of the two "ghost" teams will not be revealed until after the game is completed. It will be a regulation game nonetheless with a couple of well known local quintets battling it out in the dark. Nothing will be visible in the hall except the players who will be outlined by an illuminating process that has made "ghost basketball" possible.

Following the "ghost" game, the Gersons will battle the St. Vitus team in the first of a series of games, to determine which is the better team. The teams will fight hard for a victory. The Gerson-Saints game will be played under normal conditions, with the lights back on. Manager Ed. Richardson of the Arena is going to a big expense to bring to New Castle its first "ghost" game, but in keeping with the Arena policy, he believes in giving the public the best form of entertainment.

Second-Epworth Take Victories

Leadership Of New Castle Church League Still In Deadlocked State

Second U. P. and Epworth won their respective games in the New Castle church basketball league at the "Y" last night and are still in a deadlocked state as far as the leadership of the popular circuit is concerned, with ten wins apiece and one setback.

Second U. P. played the final game on the Wednesday card and upset the Central Presbyterians 50 to 17, with Bob Pitzer, Dick Davis and Billy Dunlap starring. Epworth in the second game trimmed a hard fighting Central Christian team 30 to 19, with Wainio, Rhodes and O'Brien in starring roles. In the opening game the Third U. P. smothered Croton Methodists under a 52 to 31 count, with Myers, Caldwell and O'Neil the top performers.

Their opening game last Sunday having been cancelled by the Akron team carded here, the Polish Falcons will attempt the 1942 opening tonight at the Falcon hall, with the Ford City Clothiers booked here. In the preliminary game the Falcon Reserves play the Epworth Reserves at 8 o'clock.

On the Ford City team are such well-known stars as Jake Ortman, former Slippery Rock college star; Gene Doumont, former Duquesne star, and others. On the Falcon roster will be found Joey Danish and Gabby Kendra at the forwards, Bill Olsen at center and George "Pop" Adams and Flash Wenda at the guards. Henry Koszela is coaching the Falcons again.

New Castle Set To Open Section Three Title Race Here Friday Night

RESERVES PLAY PRELIMINARY GAME

New Castle high school basketball team will open its Section Three league season at home on Friday night by tangling with a very fine Beaver Falls Tiger quintet. The reserve teams of both schools will play the preliminary at 7 o'clock.

Beaver Falls opened its Section Three season last Friday night by defeating Ellwood City High 39 to 21, and showed a very well balanced machine in doing it, led by Ours and Anderson with 24 of the points between them.

Hope For Victory

New Castle began its league test last Friday night also and ran up against a superior Aliquippa High team, falling 43 to 25. New Castle hopes tonight to be able to take the measure of the valley boys and start on a long winning streak.

The New Castle lineup will contain Red Ross, Jeo Ciazza, Bobby Cooper, Tommy Parou and "Big Train" Zubkowsky, with Bobby Lee also a probable starter.

Baltimore Event Saturday Evening

Ted Marlin Accepting Reservations For Affair Carded For Pitt Stadium

Today is the deadline for making arrangements to attend the testimonial honoring Hershel Baltimore at Pitt Stadium on Saturday night.

General Chairman Ted Marlin announced that he will accept reservations tonight until 6 o'clock. Marlin's phone number is 4352.

Baltimore, a New Castle athlete, startled the collegiate basketball world by winning Penn State College's center berth despite the fact that he lacked high school experience. Better yet, the 6 foot 4 localite is developing into one of the classiest performers in the eastern basketball world.

With State carded to play Pitt in Pittsburgh Saturday night, Marlin and several other local fans cooked up the testimonial idea.

The local party contemplates going to Pittsburgh in a bus. Sometime during the game, Baltimore will be presented with a valuable gift.

Marlin announced that there are still about 12 reservations open.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Tagging one sport shorty after another:

Staff Sergt. John L. Dean, who is in charge of the United States Marine Corps recruiting office here, wasn't surprised that Jimmy Bivins handed Billy Soose a rather sound thumping in Cleveland. As a matter of fact, the popular local athlete predicted that the Farrell cutie would lose.

Dean based his prediction on first-hand information. The "sarg" fought both men during his rather successful journey along leatherfist lane. Dean, incidentally, may don the upholstered mitts again to participate in a show billed for the Quantico, Virginia, army camp.

The Westminster-Duquesne encore, a March event, is stirring so much interest in this district that a Pittsburgh radio station plans to broadcast the natural. The several thousand cage addicts who would like to attend but can't due to the limited seating capacity at New Wilmington will thus get a "break."

Nick and John Uram, the ex-New Castle High star athletes who are coaching at Sidman and South Forks, Pa., respectively, have returned to resume duties following a brief visit here . . . "Lindy" Lauro heads for Tuscaloosa and Alabama university on Thursday following the Yuletide vacation.

"Chick" Davies, Duquesne university basketball maestro, ranks as one of the most traveling tutors in the business. The ex-New Castle man spends most of his time on the rails and in sleepers. He journeys about 1,000 miles a week—scouting Duquesne's opponents.

Ezzard Charles, who scored a three-round T.K.O. over Anton Christoforidis in the biggest fistic upheaval of the new year, is 19 years old and still attends high school. His home is in Cincinnati. Charles (what a name for a pug) has lost only one pro nod in 28, that to Ken Overlin.

Washington High Playing Campbell

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

A few weeks before Christmas we mentioned that the "little queen" would like to have a puppy dog for a present . . . arrangements were made to secure one, but the day before Christmas a package arrived and upon opening it we discovered a small white wooly yarn dog. The cutest little bundle of a thing that you ever laid your eyes on . . . we didn't say much about this to anyone because we wanted to make sure the two dogs would get along . . . So now Miss Mary E. McClearen we can report that the two get along famously well with their little "boss" . . . The live dog plays hide and seek with her in the day time and the little wooly yarn dog takes her away to the sand man each night. We appreciate your kindness more than you will ever know and we hope that the boys in the army appreciate the sweaters you are making for them as much as you appreciate the opportunity of making the sweaters for them.

Don't you think that sometimes we the people become a little too excited on certain problems . . . Take for instance the bus situation. A good many folks have spent a good bit of time waiting for busses in the past few weeks . . . now just why? Have you stopped to really consider the bus operations? Probably not . . . you say they are on the streets and that they should keep up to time regardless . . . alright, we agree that it's provoking to wait . . . the bus officials wait just the same as you do. Now look . . . when street cars were on the streets they were not crowded like busses are today . . . more people are today riding busses than rode street cars four weeks ago . . . that means that the capacity of the busses are being strained. So you ask, why don't they get some more busses . . . Did you ever hear of National Defense . . . when the present bus order was sent to the factory, busses were bought on the data received from those who rode street cars. The bus company is just being born and these little troubles they are having are birth pains . . . You should, in our opinion, share these pains with the Company . . . it won't be long until things will be going fine. No, we haven't talked to any official of the bus company about this situation . . . this will be a surprise to them . . . but folks let's keep our heads and give them a fair chance to prove what they can do. They started the busses in the worst time of year . . . the bus operators will get brushed up on proper operation shortly . . . If not we will take all this back when you say the word.

Bids For Ballots

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has approved a proposal of the County Commissioners to invite sealed bids for the printing, furnishing and delivering to the Court House in appropriate packages all the necessary ballots for the Primary Election to be held Tuesday, May 19, 1942, said bids to be submitted based on unit prices, the units for each bid to be for one square inch of paper used and one name, that is to say, the heading for each block shall be considered one name and every other name in the block as one name and when it is determined what the size of the ballot shall be and the number of names appearing thereon and the form of the ballot, said information will be communicated forthwith to the successful bidder, the purpose of this advertising being to place someone in position to order and secure the necessary paper for said ballots.

In making said bid, the bidder shall understand and agree that said ballot shall be printed on the quality of paper, with the size and form of type and with the arrangement of the offices to be filled and the candidates for the same, with the widths and location of margins required by the laws of this Commonwealth and in all things and in all respects to comply with said laws.

In submitting his bid, the bidder is authorized to assume that the approximate number of ballots required will be as follows: For the Republican Party, 32,605 official ballots and 3,130 specimen ballots, also 3,130 official reserve ballots and 870 specimen reserve ballots, making an approximate total of Republican ballots of 39,735; for the Democratic Party, 18,610 official ballots, 1,875 specimen ballots, 1,875 official reserve ballots, and 665 specimen reserve ballots, making an approximate total of Democratic ballots of 23,025, but the bidder must also understand that these figures are approximate only and that he will be required to furnish whatever ballots are necessary to be furnished.

When the time comes to actually print said ballots proof of each form of ballot shall be submitted to the County Commissioners for approval before the ballots shall be finally printed. The ballots are to be delivered to the office of the Chief Clerk of the County Commissioners in the Court House in New Castle on or before the Wednesday preceding the Primary Election as to all Election Districts outside the City of New Castle and on the Friday preceding the Primary Election as to all Election Districts within the City of New Castle.

The successful bidder shall be required to enter into a written contract for the printing, furnishing and delivering of said ballots and to give the required bonds with sureties to be approved by the County Commissioners.

Each bid shall be submitted in a sealed envelope plainly marked "Primary Ballot Bid" and will be received by the County Controller at his office on or before the 26th day of January, 1942, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., and not afterwards, at which time said bids will be opened publicly by the County Commissioners in their office, and the Commissioners contemplate awarding the contract to the lowest and best bidder; all bids must be accompanied by a certified check for $300.00, payable to the County Treasurer of Lawrence County, to be forfeited to the County to the extent that the County suffers loss by reason of the successful bidder not signing his contract or giving the required bonds within ten days after the contract is awarded to him.

The County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and or all bids.

Signed: Frank W. Hill,
County Controller.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Secretary of War Stimson today disclosed that Charles A. Lindbergh is engaged in special service for the war department.

Lindbergh resigned his reserve colonelcy some months ago after he had been criticized by the White House for his non-intervention stand.

"SAFE AREAS" POPULAR

(International News Service)

LONDON.—Popularity of so-called "safe areas" is demonstrated by the response to an advertisement by a roadhouse in Exmoor, Devon county. "Wanted: manager and manageress for the Sportsman's Arms Inn, Sandyway, Exmoor, apply owner." Applicants were told: The inn has no electric light; no telephone. Is five miles from the nearest village or bus route and; Its only regular customer is the postman. Yet 15 people applied for the job!

Depleted Deer Herds In State To Be Enlarged

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Jan. 15—Here is welcome news for the deer hunters of Pennsylvania! The defense program which has stimulated timber cutting will increase feed areas and therefore enlarge the depleted deer herds in many portions of the State.

According to W. C. Bramble, associate professor of forestry at the Pennsylvania State College, wherever trees are cut and openings are created in a forest, sprouts and undergrowth spring up and deer can get all they want to eat.

Bramble points out that one of the major factors leading to the present decrease in deer has been the growth of forests from a low thicket or brushwood into a pole stage. As the forest increases in height and closes its canopy, much of the lower vegetation is crowded out with a resultant decrease in deer food.

But now the war market has greatly increased cuttings. Also, forest growth in some state forests has reached a merchantable size and is being cut by private operators under contract by the State. Approximately 100 million board feet are expected to be cut from state-owned lands in the next year.

While such cuttings must be carefully executed in order not to deplete the growing stock of timber, when properly carried out, not only deer should be benefitted, but also other forest game such as ruffed grouse and wild turkey.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Because of their peculiar position as the consistently most successful baseball club of our era, the New York Yankees have always furnished most of the big headlines in the signing of players. Also, perpetually they have had some outstanding star whose spring bickering over terms had provided that off-season baseball news. Currently it is Joe DiMaggio, not yet bickering but not signed either.

In the old days, when the Yankees first hit the pinnacle of public idolatry, it was Babe Ruth. The ceremonies attendant to his eventual signing after a long holdout and several exchanges of unpleasantries between him and Col. Jake Ruppert came to be watched by managing editors—as well as sports editors—as great, drama-garnished news, especially when he finally was boosting his salary beyond anything any player had received before or will ever receive again, perhaps.

Always Hard To Sign

When the Babe passed out of the picture the speculation centered around Lou Gehrig, and one of the great indoor games for sports writers with nothing else to do during Gehrig's time as the No. 1 Yankee was to try to determine what he would ask for, what the Yankees would offer and what he finally would agree to accept.

It has always been that way with the Yankees since they began to leave the rest of the field behind. They have managed to maintain interest through the off season whether they liked it or not, and most times they haven't liked it. The players are not eager to have baseball writers prying into their affairs, and the club has at times become even more incensed over our efforts in trying to give the public the news.

Colonel Ruppert, who left his empire to the management of President Ed Barrow when he passed on, had a better sense of publicity value than those who have succeeded him, as he proved when the signing of the Babe was conducted with solemn ritual under the palms down south.

But somehow there is a creed in the Yankee organization that muffles even Manager Joe McCarthy, assuming that at some time or other he might have something to say. The Yankees are ultra-conservative in everything they do, except in winning pennants. There they can be downright acquisitive, while meanwhile seeming to shun the headlines.

McCarthy wouldn't give you the time of day if you were his closest friend without checking four watches, for fear he would be a split second off. He, therefore, is not the most preferable among all managers, but he is built to the Yankee pattern. I personally think their whole policy is shabbily phony considering that they are in the show business and among all the performers currently in the business have cashed in the most on headlines.

DiMaggio Great

However, that won't alter their attitude, you can be sure, and those of us trying to keep track on what's going on in this sometimes crazy sports world will have to carry out our chores without their blessings.

But what about DiMaggio? As successor to Ruth and Gehrig as the club's big off-season headlines, when is he going to sign and for how much?

As the outstanding player in the game today, and as one of the all-time great attractions at the gate because of his 1941 hitting streak and all-around excellence, he should be paid more than anybody in the history of the game, except the Babe himself, and I have it fairly straight that he feels the same way about it.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—Pennsylvania's special session call will probably be issued sometime during January by Gov. Arthur H. James. Legislative leaders appear to be split on the exact date and it is problematical whether the governor has decided. Speaker of the House Elmer Kilroy indicated that legislature would be asked to reconvene on January 26, while President Pro Tem of the Senate Charles H. Ealy predicted that February 2 would be the date. The agreement on congressional reapportionment virtually assured a special session of the General Assembly.

It is customary for the governor to give the legislators a week's notice before they are asked to meet. This gives those who are away from home a chance to return and others an opportunity to arrange their business affairs so they can attend. It is considered probable that the session will be over within a month and will adjourn sine die some time in February. Legislators receive $500 each for the extraordinary session, in addition to the $3,000 received for last year's regular session. If the special session runs for more than a month, they receive an additional $250 each.

The order issued by Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light to his employes banning the use of state cars more than necessary and to double up where feasible, is expected to be followed by others along the same line. . . . An executive order may also be issued by Governor James. . . . There is no indication that state cars will be given any special preference in the way of new tires and the state may have to put some of its vehicles in storage in order to conserve the tires.

The publicity from state selective service headquarters took an abrupt drop with the outbreak of war. . . . Overnight what had been public information became military secrets. . . . Before the war the draft headquarters ran a close race with the state council of defense on the amount of publicity issued. . . . Today the defense council is the winner hands down.

There is surprise in many circles that the state defense council has not taken action to protect consumers from the high cost of living . . . Governor James indicated that the council, of which he is chairman, has been waiting for the federal government to set up a price control system. . . . On the other hand, the federal government was waiting for Congress. . . . Indications are that the state will continue waiting for the federal government, etc.

Phelps Signs His Pittsburgh Contract

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 15—President Bill Benswanger, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Wednesday announced that Ernest Gordon "Babe" Phelps has returned his signed contract for the 1942 season. The salary was not revealed.

Phelps was acquired by the Corsairs from Brooklyn last month in the deal which sent Arky Vaughn to Flatbush in exchange for the big catcher and three other players. In signing his contract, Phelps said he was pleased to play with the Pirates and added he was keeping "in good shape."

Get everybody organized, Mr. President. Nothing else helps morale like a job that makes you feel useful.

The point in forgiving people is not that it benefits them but that it poisons you if you don't.

Fatality List In Hunting Season Smaller In 1941

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—Preliminary reports to the Pennsylvania Game Commission reveal a sharp decrease in hunting fatalities during the 1941 hunting season.

While as many licenses were issued as in 1940, early reports indicate that 16 fewer lives were lost in 1941 than during the preceding year and 50 fewer persons were wounded.

During the 1941 season preliminary calculations indicated there were 27 fatal and 369 non-fatal accidents as against 43 fatal and 419 non-fatal accidents during 1940. Last year, the commission added, there were 21 small game hunting fatalities—including three pre-season deaths—as compared with 25 in 1940. Non-fatal accidents during the 1941 small game season totaled 342 as compared with 351 during the previous year's hunting season.

There were six deer hunting fatalities in 1941 as compared with 18 during the 1940 season while big-game non-fatalities dropped from 68 in 1940 to 27 in 1941.

Urge Reports

Meanwhile, the game commission urged hunters to report last year's game kills before the January 16 deadline. Under the law it is mandatory for all hunters to report such information prior to that date and failure to comply with the statute may result in a $2 penalty. Following the 1940 hunting season, 98½ per cent. of Pennsylvania's hunters reported their kill.

Ross L. Leffler, re-elected game commission president, said it was "much too soon to form a conclusion on the kill for 1941."

However, he added, from preliminary field estimates we feel sure the take will be between 15,000 and 18,000 legal bucks. A comparable season was 1936 when 18,084 deer were killed.

Leffler said the commission knew from general observation that the deer killed in 1941 were "larger, fatter, and carried heavier racks than in previous years."

"Thinning out the herd during the recent years not only reduced it commensurate with its food supply," he declared, "but put the remaining animals back in the forests where they belong, thus going a long way toward relieving farm damage and breaking up the dangerous and unsportsmanlike practice of riding slowly along a road—sometimes with loaded guns—looking for deer."

Leffler added that the "cruisers" were seldom rewarded during the past season for the deer were not found in numbers along the highways as in former years.

The 1941 deer kill probably would have been larger had there been a "tracking snow." Leffler said, adding that fog and rain covered much of the deer country during the early part of the season and made visibility bad. Increased industrial activity kept many hunters home.

Leffler scoffed at claims that Pennsylvania's deer herds face extermination. "There are enough breeding animals left," he eesaid, "that if they are uncontrolled for a few years the herds will be again so large that the commission's problems will be as great as before."

Present indications are that the bear, ringneck pheasant, rabbit, woodchuck and raccoon seasons were better than during 1940 but that the complete figures would not be available until the commission tabulated the reports due Jan. 16.

News Briefs From City Hall

When council convened in the City building Thursday, Solicitor R. M. White presented to the body a measure which will regulate mercantile tax assessments and collections. The bill which was referred to committee for consideration, is recognized as a revenue raiser. The mercantile assessor would receive 25 cents for each assessment, and five percent of each collection. A business house proprietor would pay on the volume of business. Pin-ball and other similar devices would be assessed and taxed. Trucks used for peddling purposes, motor passenger buses and taxicabs also fall under the provisions of the bill. The rates will be inserted during committee hearing. The proposed law if adopted will repeal the existing ordinance.

Because Taylor street when improved will be a part of Route 422, city council in session in the City hall referred favorably from committee a measure which provides an 80-foot width, if the city so desires, and also places the district in a secondary business zone instead of a B residence section, as at present.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop, at the urge of Director of Property Jos. Alexander, was instructed by council to draft a measure for council's consideration whereby plans and specifications may be made by engineers for repairs at the sewage disposal plant. The city proposes to have repairs and changes ordered by the state made during a perior of four years. A portion of the work may be accomplishment this year. The cost of the entire work will be $106,000. Council appropriated $20,000 for 1942 improvement. Engineers will draft plans and specificatinos covering the entire job.

Council sent into then favorably referred from committee hearing a measure which would, if adopted, have the city pay the Bander heirs $500 for a parcel of land near Montgamery avenue and the P. R. R. which may be desired if Montgomery avenue were widened by the state. Approximately one-half acre is involved, according to Solicitor R. M. White.

There is a handsome monument at Cooch's Bridge, Del., where the United States flag was first unfurled on land on September 3, 1777.

Zivic-Robinson Battle Friday

Fritzie Zivic Confident That He Will Defeat Harlem Hotshot

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—It'll take me about seven rounds to hurt him but he can't take it in the belly and when I do tag him I'll knock him out somewhere between the seventh and the 12th rounds.' That was the promise of old man Fritzie Zivic today as he talked of tomorrow night's battle with Sugar Ray Robinson, the Harlem hotshot who has not been beaten in 26 professional fights.

We call Zivic the old man because he has been reported over the hill more than any other top notch battler still tossing leather. And if he loses to Robinson tomorrow evening it probably will mark his last chance of getting a shot at the welterweight title he once held.

Beaten By Cochrane

Zivic lost the crown on a stunning upset to Freddie (Red) Cochrane of New Jersey last summer and has been trying to get a return chance at it since. He was on the way to doing so last fall when he was matched with the sensational, but young, Robinson.

Ray beat him, Zivic tiring in the last two rounds of a ten-round bout after holding Ray pretty even in the first eight. "I was mistaken in that fight because I thought Ray was going to slug with me and when he switched his style and started to box me, I couldn't change my pace quickly enough and he licked me."

RUBBER-BEARING DANDELION IS FOUND IN RUSSIA

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O.—A variety of dandelion now found in Russia may be the means of solving the critical rubber shortage now confronting an America at war, according to the National Farm Chemurgic Council.

Results of an investigation of the possibilities of this new source of rubber, based on experimental growth at Louisville, Ky., were announced by national headquarters of the council, which attempts to find newd industrial uses for farm products.

The rubber-bearing dandelion known as Kok-sagyz, was discovered in 1931 near the Chinese-Russian border. First experimentations were conducted by the Russian government.

Dr. Paul J. Kolachov, director of research for a distilling company, who conducted the Kentucky experiments, reported that the cultivated plant now yields from 150 to 200 pounds of crude rubber per acre, and 75 to 100 pounds of seed. The rubber is contained in the root and "is easily utilized in manufacturing, as compared with other plants."

Just happened to think why it doesn't seem a real war boom. The honest working man can't find any silk shirts.

Congressman Graham Wins Victory In House

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Representative Louis E. Graham of Beaver won a personal and strictly one-man victory in the House of Representatives this week when he persuaded that body to approve nationality act amendments enunciating specific reasons for which the citizenship of a naturalized citizen might be revoked.

In one of his rare speeches before the House, Congressman Graham argued his case quietly but persuasively. Up for consideration were changes in the nationality act designed to strengthen that law. One of the proposed alterations provided that the citizenship of a naturalized alien might be revoked if his actions indicated allegiance to a foreign state. Arguing that this was too vague, the Beaver Congressman suggested that allegiance to a foreign state be determined by the utterances, writings, or actions of the suspected person.

Mr. Graham told the House of his experience as United States attorney for western Pennsylvania, with a large alien population. He said it had always been extremely difficult for a district attorney to go into court and prove foreign allegiance because many judges interpreted existing law in a variety of ways. He said that in 22 Pennsylvania counties he had found more than 40 different interpretations.

Therefore, insisted the Congressman, direct guides for both judges and district attorneys should be written into the law.

Many House members were at first skeptical of the changes offered by Graham. Some suspected the amendments might violate freedom of speech. Congressman Graham answered all questions with such convincing clarity, however, that the House finally voted unanimous approval of his proposal and applauded him vigorously as he marched back to his seat.

This was the most important piece of legislation successfully sponsored by the Beaver Congressman since his election to the House.

Kiwanis Club Hears Dr. Bennett Speak

Tells Luncheon Audience There Is No Real Patriotism Without Sacrifice

"There is no real patriotism without sacrifice," Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of First Christian church, told Kiwanis club members at The Castleton yesterday as he spoke on the timely theme, "America's Maginot Lines".

"Our patriotism is judged not so much by what we say as by what we are willing to give and do for our country," Dr. Bennett said.

"The spirit of national unity" he called the greatest of America's Maginot lines. He declared that faith—faith in our government and its leaders, in our fellow-citizens and in the God whom we worship—is one of the strongest of those lines.

Dr. Bennett recently addressed the Lions club on the same topic.

New Minimum Age For Army Cadets

Sergeant Owen E. Tighe, who is in charge of the United States Army recruiting office in the post office, today has been informed that a reduction in minimum age for aviation cadets and second lieutenants in the air corps reserve has been made.

The minimum age for eligibility for appointment as a aviation cadet or as a second lieutenant in the air corps reserve now is 18 instead of 20.

Hitherfore, a 20 to 26 age prevailed. The new age requirement is 18 to 26 inclusive, Sergeant Tighe announced.

Your Federal Income Tax

NO. 10
WHEN TO REPORT INCOME FROM SALARIES, WAGES, AND OTHER SOURCES.

Salaried persons and wage earners whose income is derived from personal services form the largest number of Federal income taxpayers. This year this army of taxpayers will be greatly increased. Those who paid an income tax for 1940 have received the forms for the 1941 income tax return through the mails. In order that none may escape filing the return, employers are required to report on Form 1099, accompanied by transmittal Form 1096, the names of all their employees to whom, if single, they made payments of $750 or more in 1941, and if married, $1,500 or more. If the marital status of the employee is unknown he must be reported as single.

These returns should be filed on or before February 15, 1942, with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Returns Distribution Section, Washington, D. C.

The law contemplates that every individual, if single, or if married but not living with spouse, whose gross income for 1941 was $750 or more, must file an income-tax return. Excuses for not doing so do not relieve the delinquent from responsibility for the delinquency.

Neither the President of the United States, nor the Vice President nor Federal judges, nor Members of Congress, are exempt from filing returns.

All types of compensation, unless specifically excluded by statute, should be incorporated in the gross income of the taxpayer. A minister of the Gospel, for instance, must report all fees he receives—for funerals, for masses, for baptisms, for marriages, and for other like services. In addition to salaries, wages, fees, and commissions, all bonuses, tips, prizes, awards, retiring allowances for past services, and other forms of compensation are rated as part of one's income. If a person is paid in whole or in part for his services by anything other than money, the fair market value of the thing taken must be reported as income.

Compensation credited to the account of or set apart for a taxpayer, without any substantial limitation or restriction, and which may be drawn upon by him at any time, is subject to tax for the year during which so credited or set apart, although not then actually reduced to possession. If the services were rendered during the year 1940, or even prior thereto, but the compensation was not received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand by the taxpayer until 1941, the entire amount is taxable in 1941 when the taxpayer is reporting on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, which is the basis used by most individuals in reporting net income.

Russians Proving Tougher Opponents Than Was Realized

Poorly Clothed And Ill-Fed German Troops Face Winter Russian Hardships

(International News Service)

BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 15.—The Berliner Boersen Zeitung, in one of the most revealing war statements yet to come out of Germany, admitted today that "the Russians have proved stronger than our responsible leaders imagined."

The paper painted a vivid picture of the sufferings of poorly-clothed and equipped German troops in the Russian winter, and pointed out that "the Russian high command saw through the German intention to withdraw to a winter line and at once started an offensive to frustrate the plan."

The Russians also possessed numerical superiority on the eastern front, the paper admitted.

Dr. Sertorius, a German commentator, was the author of the article.

Admitting that the German defensive retreat before the Russian onslaught has been on a tremendous scale, Dr. Sertorius asserted the recent Russian victories are "in no wise overshadowed by the great battles of the summer and fall."

Seeking To Merge Electric Companies

P. U. C. Conducting Hearing On Merger Plan In Northwestern Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—The Public Utility Commission has opened a three-day hearing on the petition of five western Pennsylvania public utilities seeking permission to merge into one electric company serving approximately 130,000 customers.

Joining the petition were the Pennsylvania Electric Co., the Erie Light Co., the Solar Electric Co., the Clarion River Co., and the Youghiogheny Hydro-Electric Co., all affiliates of the bankrupt Associated Gas & Electric Co.

The proposed merger is part of the reorganization plan of the A. G. & E. ordered by the federal courts. If the commission approves the integration of the five companies, the new utility will extend from the New York state line to the Maryland line and rural western Pennsylvania.

A long objection was filed by Lavelle A. Wilson, solicitor for Brookville borough, Jefferson county, who obtained from counsel for the utilities a pledge that the proposed merger would not result in increased street lighting costs for the borough.

W. A. Davies, treasurer of the Pennsylvania Electric Co., told P. U. C. Examiner Albert W. Johnson that if the integration is approved, the new utility proposed to expand $14,200,000 construction program already underway at Erie and Johnstown. He added that utility officials planned a $32,500,000 bond issue which would constitute a first mortgage on all properties. In addition, officials proposed to sell 250,000 shares of preferred stock at $100 par.

The commission was told that the merger was necessary for service, accommodation and convenience of the public because it would simplify the corporate structures of the companies and will eliminate the unnecessary corporate expense and duplication of records.

Well Known Song Writer Suicides In New York City

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—A man whose songs had swept the continents died Wednesday by choice.

A cancer sufferer for two years, Fred Fisher, 65, hanged himself from a transom in his penthouse apartment. The body was found by his son.

Fisher wrote "Ireland Must Be Heaven," and "There's A Broken Heart For Every Light On Broadway," "Dardanella," "The Band Played On," "I Found A Million Dollar Baby," and more than 200 other songs, many of them hits.

On the back of an envelope in which were notes of medicines to be taken for the relief of pain, he scribbled one line.

"Nobody is responsible for my death," it read.

Fisher was a publisher as well as composer and had made and lost several fortunes. His publishing house was said to have cleared $900,000 in its first year of operation.
